PC Native Receives Dental Degree, Joins Dr. Robert Dawe's Granville Practice

Congratulations Dr. Fiedler and Welcome Back to Putnam County!!

A Message From Dave York, Pres. USW Local 7367

by Elin Arnold and Amber Dawe

(Granville, IL) -- Putnam County native Evan Fiedler received his dental degree from the University of Illinois at Chicago in May and began working as a dentist at Dr. Robert Dawe's Granville practice in June to accommodate the growing number of patients.

Dr. Fiedler's first day at the practice was Thursday, June 25, and his grandfather was his first patient. In coming months, he will be treating former classmates, teachers and neighbors. Along with Dr. Dawe, Dr. Fiedler provides a full range of dental services including preventative care, cosmetic dentistry and restorative care.

Dr. Fiedler grew up in Granville and graduated from Putnam County High School in 2001. He received his bachelor's degree from the University of Illinois at Champaign before going on to dental school.

"I grew up here all my life and lived away for 8 years," Evan stated. "When I first moved away I didn't necessarily think I would come back, but soon I knew. My family is here, I know everyone here, and I still have ties to the family farm." His ties to the family farm are strong. "I didn't get much of a vacation after I graduated," he laughed. "Just enough time to help get the crops in."

While attending dental school, Dr. Fiedler was selected by the faculty to serve an externship in rural Colorado treating disadvantaged minorities. He was a member of the American Student Dental Association, and is currently a member of the American Dental Association.

He is the first male in his family to get a degree and return to this area. He is the fifth generation of his family to live in Putnam County and work on the farm. But he is also ready to begin his new career as a dentist in Putnam County.

"I was looking to add an associate dentist, and Dr. Fiedler is the perfect person to come on board, especially since he's from Granville," said Dr. Dawe. "He has the kind of character I was looking for in an associate, and that I know patients will appreciate. I have complete confidence in his abilities," Dr. Dawe said.

Fiedler has been one of Dr. Dawe's patients for years, and the two both attend Granville United Church of Christ. Dr. Dawe knew about Evan's interest in dentistry. They kept in touch and saw each other whenever Evan was home in church. When he started dental school Evan knew he'd be coming back.

"I knew I wanted to be a dentist when I graduated from high school, and it just happened to work out that I get to stay in Putnam County to serve the community," Dr. Fiedler said. "I'm also grateful to be working in a practice with the latest dental technology -- Dr. Dawe is always one of the first to implement new dental advances that make patients more comfortable and improve their oral health, from digital x-rays to single-tooth anesthesia for dental procedures."

Dr. Fiedler is looking forward to working with people he knows. "It makes a difference will know the people," Dr. Dawe commented. "It keeps you honest. If something doesn't go as well as you would like it to everybody knows everything that goes on. There is no room for error. How people feel about your work gets back to you from a lot more avenues."

Dr. Fiedler's arrival allows the practice to expand its hours. Dr. Dawe's office will now be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday; and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Thursday. Appointments can be made by calling 339-6888.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Putnam County Record would like to thank Amber Dawe for her contribution to this article.)

The Putnam County Record Office will be closed July 3rd in observance of the 4th of July Holiday Weekend. Have a Safe & Happy 4th!!

It is quickly approaching the Fourth of July, Independence Day. That will be the last day for the 25 bargained for people from USW Local 7367 in the plant. These foreign corporate leaders couldn't have picked a better time to defy America and our union. The week starting on the 6th of July they will start stripping the plant and sending it to all parts of the world, just as parts of the Lakawana plant went to Saudi Arabia. The survival of this union in this country is hinged on getting laws and enforcing them that would stop the ability of companies acting as terrorists to be able to deliberately destroy American manufacturing.

Please read following statement from the CEO of the American division. ArcelorMittal, the world's largest steel producer, is shifting focus from the developed world to lower-cost developing regions, acknowledging that growth prospects are dimmer in North America and Europe.

Chief Executive Lakshmi Mittal told steel executives at a conference in New York that while the U.S. and European Union will continue to wield considerable influence in pioneering new steelmaking techniques and products, those regions don't promise the same growth as other locales.

"We must recognize that these are not long-term growth markets. It will be China and other emerging markets that will drive future growth for our industry," he said Tuesday.

Also this is the latest letter that went out from our concerned USW members and others that are fighting to save America:

Dear Secretary LaHood,
 I am sure that you are aware of the situation that is happening to the Arcelor Mittal steel plant in Hennepin IL. I know you have visited the plant in the past and are very aware of the capabilities and the importance of this plant to the Illinois Valley area and of a strong domestic steel industry in the United States.

I applaud the $8 billion allocated in the Recovery package to high speed rail development and the proposed $450 billion over the next 6 years for Surface Transportation Authorization Act. Both are an excellent step in upgrading the nation's infrastructure, improving the environment and providing a much needed boost to our deserving domestic steel producers.

With Arcelor Mittal's recent actions of closing the Hennepin, Illinois plant and the Lackawanna, New York facilities and not allowing the sale of the assets to willing buyers, I believe that this company is not one of the deserving domestic steel producers. My statement is based on the following:

- Establishing an asking price of 20 times higher than the current taxed assessed value
- Refusing to allow interested parties to easily visit the plant
- Expediting plans to pillage the plant and ship critical manufacturing equipment to the likes of Brazil, France, Saudi Arabia and Canada.

In summary, I believe any stimulus money, including Surface Transportation Authorization Act funds, should be aimed at entities that want to improve the United States economy and not destroy our American manufacturing base. Arcelor Mittal's actions indicate that they do not live up to this standard. I ask you as a representative of approximately 300 working families, to do whatever you can to maintain our domestic base and keep American jobs. Also, I strongly urge you to do whatever you can to insure that Arcelor Mittal does not partake in any available high speed rail or other stimulus funding. As you can see I do not believe they are worthy of that consideration.

With Highest Regards,
This letter went to all politicians and papers, some nationwide.

In Solidarity Dave York

PC Schools Honor Retirees

Pictured above L-R are Jay McCracken, PC Schools Superintendent with retirees Mary Crook, Adriane Shore and PC School Board President, Judy Hopkins. McCracken thanked the teachers for their many years of service, and presented each with Crystal Apples. Adriane Shore was a special ed teacher since 1979 and Mary Crook taught 1st grade for eight years. President Hopkins said, "It's hard to see such wonderful people retiring."

Letter to the Editor

In regards to the Village of Hennepin having to close the public restrooms in Walter Durlay Boyle Park due to repeated acts of misuse and vandalism. If we cannot maintain law and order across from the Sheriff's office during daylight hours it does not say much for us as a village. The Board could do several things. I would suspect that it is younger people doing all or most of the damage. The board could establish a curfew and get the younger people off of the street after a certain time each night. Maybe then the ones responsible would wake up and start behaving as they should. The restrooms could be torn down (might as well if they are going to be locked 24 hours a day). But that would not be right to our visitors who use the park. Or people could just use the restrooms in the Sheriff's Office and not have to fool around with a key. Any way this is addressed it's not going to be accepted very well. One thing is certain it does not speak very well for our town. It is too bad a few people are going to cause so many people a problem. I would like the Board to reconsider leaving the restrooms open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. each day during the summer months.

PC Sheriff's Office 8th Annual "Kops & Kids" Fishing Derby

On June 13, the Putnam County Sheriff's Office held its 8th annual "Kops and Kids" Fishing Derby at the Don and Betty Nuske residence. Due to the excessive amount of rain this year, the Wetlands was unavailable. Don and Betty Nuske allowed the Sheriff's Office to use their beautiful and well stocked pond. "Kops and Kids" is a program initiated by Sheriff Doyle focusing on building a trust and providing positive interaction between law enforcement and kids.

Approximately 10 kids participated in the Fishing Derby. Each child was provided fishing gear. After fishing, a cookout for the kids was held at the Hennepin Park.

Each child received a t-shirt and a prize at the end of the day. Two bikes, donated by the Granville Rotary, were also given away in a drawing. The winner of this year's girl's bike, Olivia Holmes, donated her bike back to be given to another girl. Way to go Olivia!

Without the generous support of our community, this day would not have been possible. Sheriff Kevin Doyle, Deputies, Dispatchers and Staff would like to give a big thanks to everyone that contributed.

Fr. Dom Pizza

The Nodding Onion in Utica will once again host the "Father Dom Gourmet Pizza Pairing" as a benefit for the St. Bede Academy Drama department on Wednesday, July 8 at 6:30 p.m. The event will include an antipasto course, samples of four different gourmet pizzas, and a dessert pizza, each paired with a unique wine from a variety of wineries. The pizzas will be prepared by PBS celebrity baker Fr. Dominic Garramone, who's enthusiastic about repeating the event.

"Our last pizza pairing was a huge success," says the St. Bede monk; "and our students really enjoyed working in the kitchen and as wait staff."

Garramone worked with Nodding Onion owner and Academy alumnus Kevin Ryan to create a revised menu. The fare includes new pizzas like a classic Pizza Margherita, Italian Beef Pizza and a "Pizza Volpiana" featuring authentic Italian meats by Volpi Foods, from Saint Louis' famous Italian neighborhood "The Hill." But the night also includes the most popular pizzas from the last event.

"The pizza with Parmesan cream sauce and sautéed scallops was by far the most popular," says Ryan, "and so we've included it, along with the Fig and Papaya dessert pizza."

Tickets are $75 a couple, and are available at the Nodding Onion (667-4990) or at Saint Bede Academy (223-3140, ext. 246). Seating is limited, so tickets must be purchased in advance. Proceeds from the event will be used for the Academy drama department.

Hi,
Hope everyone is staying cool! If you need a place to go to get out of the heat, please don't hesitate to come to the center. We also have fans available for loan if you need one. If you are coming out for lunch remember we need 24 hour notice so we can reserve a meal for you. There are some very interesting programs scheduled for July. Check them out and come over to the center. We always like to have input on any new and interested program you would like to see at the center after all it is your center!

The center is still trying to do fund raising for the year. We have until the end of September to raise funds. With that goal in mind we are raffling off a 32 inch flat screen tv and a hand made quilt. Anyone wishing to take a chance can contact the Senior Center at 815-339-2711. Ladies from the center will be making noodle and selling them. They will be taking orders with the first selling date of Friday, August 7.

We will be holding a vendors fair on August 30 at the center. There is limited space and will cost $25 for a table. Any area vendor can call the center for more information and to reserve a spot.

Calling all scrap bookers and book readers. We want to see if there is enough interest to have a scrap booking session in the evening. We would also like to start a book club that would meet one evening a month at the center. Anyone interested in these activities, please call the center. If we receive a one-time only grant, we are going to start a Tai Chi evening class and a Breakfast For Your Brain program. As soon as we hear that we are awarded money for these items there will be a notice in the paper to sign up.

We will be attending the Marshall-Putnam fair on Thursday, July 9 for senior day. We will carpool and leave the center at 7:45 sharp. There is a sign up sheet at the center.

Caring for an older person or a person with a disability- especially while juggling work, family and other obligations can take a serious toll on the caregiver.

Some tips that may help you-

Eat, sleep and go to the doctor. Don't neglect your own health! Caregivers report depression, sleep deprivation, poor nutrition and frequently have lowered immune systems. It's important to keep up your own strength.

Remember the outside world. As much as you can, keep up your own interests. Even a small amount of exercise can reduce stress.

Hear His Word

"So he rose and came to his father. But while he was still a long way off, his father saw him and pitied him, and ran and threw his arms round his neck and kissed him tenderly."
Luke 15:20 (Weymouth's New Testament)

We celebrate Independence every 4th of July filling the day with carnivals, contests, and car shows, and the nights with family, friends, and fireworks. The more spectacular the show, the better.

Independence is good so long as the governing plan implemented from that day forward is just, good, consistent, and workable. If you replace dependence on a just government with independence run by corrupt leaders, you will have definitely taken a step from bad to worse—as has been experienced by many countries featured in nightly news reports.

Personal independence has similar ramifications. The "prodigal" son of Luke 15 declared his freedom from his father and family. Nothing wrong with that—our young people leave to make their own way in society all the time.

However, this son demanded a share of his father's property and livelihood—an inheritance to which he had no legal, social, moral, or ethical right. Leaving family behind, he took off to a far country and squandered his goods, wasting it all in riotous living. He lived it up and life was good for a little while.

Good, that is, until he was penniless, friendless, homeless, and hungry.

You know the end of the story... how he went back to Dad and was received with open arms and great joy.

But in our case, the end of the story hasn't been written yet. We are the prodigal children who have declared our independence from God; who have demanded a share of our Father's property and livelihood—this creation we so easily squander and waste.

Like that son of the parable, we have no legal right to our Father's assets, the wealth of creation. We can claim no social entitlement to our Father's position; nor can we assert a superior moral privilege or adherence to ethics we say we believe but refuse to live.

Our independence from God is sure—even to the point of denying the One who provided us with the very wealth with which we litter this planet.

Our destination is what lies in question now. Will we remain in the odiferous muck and mire of the swine celebrating our self-sufficiency? Or will we turn our hearts and minds to the Parent who never desired us to be independent of Him in the first place?

Lake Wildwood Properties Up for Public Bid Auction

Marshall County will soon offer a group of seven Lake Wildwood properties to the public along with six mineral rights located throughout the County. The County will see these properties at a sealed bid auction sale. All sealed bids must be in the Treasurer's office located in the Marshall County Courthouse, 122 N. Prairie, Lacon IL 615140 no later than the close of business on July 23rd.

Lake Wildwood buyers are subject to the terms and provisions of a "Declaration of Restrictive Covenants" recorded in the Office of the Recorder of Deed of Marshall County and to the "By-Laws of the Lake Wildwood Assn, Inc," and to the Rules and Regulations. New owners are encouraged to obtain a title commitment from a title insurance company as the county does not guaranty title. Properties sold will be subject to the 2010 real estate taxes. Purchasers of these parcels will not have to pay real estate taxes until the summer of 2011.

Many current lot owners, friends and relatives will benefit from this rare opportunity. It is anticipated that the sale of these lots will be a major benefit to all property owners. These sales will place the properties into the hands of individuals who have an interest in the development and the surrounding area.

Marshall County hopes the future owners will maintain the property, pay the required future Lake Wildwood Association Assessments, and future real estate taxes. By eliminating abandoned properties, the appearance of the neighborhood should improve and the value of adjoining properties should increase.

The required minimum bid is just $642 per item. All items will be sold to the highest sealed bidder received on or before July 23. Complete bidder's packets and sale catalogs are now available at the Marshall County Treasurer's Office, Lake Wildwood Gate Entrance, Varna or online at www.iltaxsale.com.

For further sale information, contact the Auction Sale Department at the Marshall County Tax Agent's Office at 800/248-2850 or 618/656-5744 or visit at www.iltaxsale.com. Office hours are 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday thru Friday.

ANNUAL DRINKING WATER QUALITY REPORT
GRANVILLE IL1550050

Annual Water Quality Report for the Period of January 1 to December 31, 2008

This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the HENNEPIN PWD water system to provide safe drinking water. The source of drinking water used by HENNEPIN PWD is Ground Water.

For more information regarding this report, contact: SHELI STARKEY 815/339-2100

Este informe contiene informacion muy importante sobre el agua que usted bebe. Tradizcalo o hable con alguien que lo entienda bien.

Source of Drinking Water

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and groundwater wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive materials, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.

Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.

Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.

Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.

Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Source Water Assessment

We want our valued customer to be informed about their water quality. If you would like to learn more, please feel welcome to attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. The source water assessment for our supply has been completed by the Illinois EPA. If you would like a copy of this information, please stop by City Hall or call our water operator at 815/339-2100. To view a summary version of the completed Source Water Assessments, including: Importance of Source Water; Susceptibility to Contamination Determination; and documentation/recommendation of Source Water Protection Efforts, you may access the Illinois EPA website at <http://www.epa.state.il.us/cgi-bin/wp-swap-fact-sheets.pl>

Based on information obtained in a Well Site Survey published in 1992 by the Illinois EPA, several potential sources are located within 1,000 feet of the wells. The Illinois EPA has determined that the Granville Community Water Supply's source water is not susceptible to contamination. This determination is based on a number of criteria including; monitoring conducted at the wells; monitoring conducted at the entry point to the distribution system; and available hydrogeologic data on the wells. Furthermore, in anticipation of the U.S. EPA's proposed Ground Water Rule, the Illinois EPA has determined that the Granville Community Water Supply is not vulnerable to viral contaminations. This determination is based upon the evaluations of the following criteria during the Vulnerability Waiver Process the community's wells are properly constructed with sound integrity and proper siting conditions: a hydraulic barrier exists which should prevent, pathogen movement; all potential routes and sanitary defects have been mitigated such that the source water is adequately protected; monitoring data did not indicate a history of disease outbreak; and the sanitary survey of the water supply did not indicate a viral contamination threat. Because the community's wells are constructed in a confined aquifer, which should prevent the movement of pathogens into the wells, well hydraulics were not considered to be a significant factor in the susceptibility determinations. Hence, well hydraulics were not evaluated for this system ground water supply.

Lead and Copper

Definitions:
Action Level Goal (ALG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. ALGs allow for a margin of safety.
Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. We are responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but we cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>.

Lead and Copper	Date Sampled	MCLG	Action Level (AL)	90th Percentile	# Sites Over AL	Units	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Copper	08/28/2007	1.3	1.3	0.51	0	ppm	N	Erosion of natural deposits; Leaching from wood preservatives; Corrosion of household plumbing systems.
Lead	08/28/2007	0	15	2.6	0	ppb	N	Corrosion of household plumbing systems; Erosion of natural deposits.

Water Quality Test Results

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal or MCLG: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Contaminant Level or MCL: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum residual disinfectant level goal or MRDLG: The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Maximum residual disinfectant level or MRDL: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Definitions: The following tables contain scientific terms and measures, some of which may require explanation.

ppb: micrograms per liter or parts per billion - or one ounce in 7,350,000 gallons of water.

na: not applicable.

ppm: milligrams per liter or parts per million - or one ounce in 7,350 gallons of water.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

The following comprise the Annual Consumer Confidence Report (CCR) for your water system.

- The report must include the telephone number of the owner, operator, or designee of the community water system as a source of additional information concerning the report.
- In communities with a large proportion of non-English speaking residents, as determined by the Primacy Agency, the report must contain information in the appropriate language(s) regarding the importance of the report or contain a translated copy of the report and/or assistance in the appropriate language.
- If your water system purchases water from another source, you are required to include the current CCR year's Regulated Contaminants Detected table from your source water supply.

- If your water system had any violations during the current CCR Calendar year, you are required to include an explanation of the corrective action taken by the water system.

- If your water system is going to use the CCR to deliver a Public Notification, you must include the full public notice and return a copy of the CCR and Public Notice with the Public Notice Certification Form. This is in addition to the copy and certification form required by the CCR rule.

- The information about likely sources of contamination provided in the CCR is generic. Specific information regarding contaminants may be available in sanitary surveys and source water assessments and should be used.

- If a community water system distributes water to its customers from multiple hydraulically independent distribution systems fed by different raw water sources, the table should contain a separate column for each service area, and the report should identify each separate distribution system. Alternatively, systems may produce separate reports tailored to include data for each service area.

- Detections of unregulated contaminants for which monitoring is required are not included in the CCR and must be added. When added, the information must include the average and range at which the contaminant was detected.

- If a water system has performed any monitoring for Cryptosporidium, including monitoring performed to satisfy the requirements of the Information Collection Rule (ICR) (§141.143), which indicates that Cryptosporidium may be present in the source water or the finished water, the report must include: (a) a summary of the results of the monitoring; and (b) an explanation of the significance of the results.

- If a water system has performed any monitoring for radon which indicates that radon may be present in the finished water, the report must include: (a) The results of the monitoring; and (b) An explanation of the significance of the results.

- If a water system has performed additional monitoring which indicates the presence of other contaminants in the finished water, EPA strongly encourages systems to report any results which may indicate a health concern. To determine if results may indicate a health concern, EPA recommends that systems find out if EPA has proposed an NPDWR or issued a health advisory for that contaminant by calling the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791). EPA considers detects above a proposed MCL or health advisory level to indicate possible health concerns. For such contaminants, EPA recommends that the report include: (a) the results of the monitoring; and (b) an explanation of the significance of the results noting the existence of a health advisory or a proposed regulation.

HENNEPIN PWD, IL1555100

Annual Water Quality Report for the Period of January 1 to December 31, 2008

This report is intended to provide you with important information about your drinking water and the efforts made by the HENNEPIN PWD water system to provide safe drinking water. The source of drinking water used by HENNEPIN PWD is Ground Water.

Source of Drinking Water

The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and groundwater wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive materials, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity. Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
- Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial, or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining, or farming.
- Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture, urban storm water runoff, and residential uses.
- Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff, and septic systems.
- Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally-occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline at (800) 426-4791.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations which limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which must provide the same protection for public health.

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune system disorders, some elderly and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).

Source Water Assessment

We want our valued customers to be informed about their water quality. If you would like to learn more, please feel welcome to attend any of our regularly scheduled meetings. The source water assessment for our supply has been completed by the Illinois EPA. If you would like a copy of this information, please stop by City Hall or call our water operator at 815/925-7223. To view a summary version of the completed Source Water Assessments, including, Importance of Source Water; Susceptibility to Contamination Determination; and documentation/recommendation of Source Water Protection Efforts, you may access the Illinois EPA website at <http://www.epa.state.il.us/cgi-bin/wp/swap-fact-sheets.pl>.

To determine Hennepin's susceptibility to groundwater contamination, the Illinois Rural Water Association conducted a well site survey in October, 2002. Based on the information obtained in this document, there are 13 potential sources of groundwater contamination that could pose a hazard to groundwater utilized by Hennepin's community water supply. These include 1 chemical handling facility, 1 manufacturing process, 1 boat yard, 1 sales store, 2 onsite sludge disposals, 2 injection wells, 2 water treatment plants, and 3 above ground fuel storage tanks. In addition, information provided by the leaking Underground Storage Tank and Remedial Project Management Sections of the Illinois EPA indicated sites with on-going remediation that might be of concern. According to the Hennepin PWD facility, LTV Steel Co. and the associated injection well and water treatment plant have been sold to the International Steel Group. However, the sludge disposal associated with this site is no longer active. Based upon this information, the Illinois EPA has determined that the Hennepin Community Water Supply's source water is susceptible to contamination. As such, the Illinois EPA has provided 5-year recharge area calculations for the wells. The land use within the recharge areas of the wells was analyzed as part of this susceptibility determination. This land use includes residential, commercial and agricultural properties.

Lead and Copper

Definitions:

Action Level Goal (ALG): The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. ALGs allow for a margin of safety.

Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.

---- If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. We are responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but we cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline at <http://www.epa.gov/safewater/lead>----

Lead and Copper	Date Sampled	MCLG	Action Level (AL)	90th Percentile	# Sites Over AL	Units	Violation	Likely Source of Contamination
Copper	09/10/2007	1.3	1.3	1.167	1	ppm	N	Erosion of natural deposits; Leaching from wood preservatives; Corrosion of household plumbing systems.

Water Quality Test Results

Maximum Contaminant Level Goal or MCLG: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.

Maximum Contaminant Level or MCL: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.

Maximum residual disinfectant level goal or MRDLG: The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MRDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.

Maximum residual disinfectant level or MRDL: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.

Definitions: The following tables contain scientific terms and measures, some of which may require explanation.

ppb: micrograms per liter or parts per billion - or one ounce in 7,350,000 gallons of water.

na: not applicable.

Commerce Commission ("ICC" or "Commission") proposed changes in its rates, charges, classifications, rules and regulations for electric delivery services throughout its territory in Illinois. The changes in AmerenCILCO's rate schedules are proposed to take effect about May 2, 2010, after hearings and after the Commission issues its final Order. The proposed changes reflect and update AmerenCILCO's charges and other provisions for delivering electricity to all customers.

This filing is designed to change AmerenCILCO's electric base rates and other charges to increase the Company's 2008 electric revenues by 22.78 percent based upon a normalized 2008 test year. The proposed changes result in a 20.5 percent increase in the electric delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's DS-1. Residential Delivery Service classification. The rates for delivery service constitute only a portion of the total bill of a customer currently taking bundled electric service from AmerenCILCO, or taking supply service from a third-party supplier. Under the Company's proposal, for a residential customer using 5,000 kWh annually (or average of 417 kWh monthly), the effect of the delivery service increase and other changes being proposed by Company produce a 13.8 percent average monthly bill increase for bundled service (or $5.36 monthly). For a residential customer using 18,000 kWh per year (or average of 1,500 kWh monthly), monthly bills for bundled service would increase 5.5 percent, (or $7.38 monthly).

For non-residential customers, the proposed changes will result in a 27.6 percent increase in the electric delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's proposed non-residential DS-2 Small General Delivery Service classification; a 24.5 percent increase in the electric delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's proposed DS-3 General Delivery Service classification; 57.3 percent increase in the electric delivery service revenue in AmerenCILCO's proposed DS-4 Large General Delivery Service classification; and a 0.7 percent decrease in the electric delivery service revenue in AmerenCILCO's proposed DS-5 Protective Lighting Service classification.

A copy of the proposed change in rate schedules may be inspected at the AmerenCILCO headquarters in Peoria, Illinois or online at www.icc.illinois.gov/e-docket/.

Customers should be advised that the Commission may alter or otherwise amend the rates or conditions of service after hearings are held pursuant to 83 Ill. Adm. Code 200 and may increase or decrease individual rates in amounts other than those requested by AmerenCILCO.

All parties interested in this matter may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from AmerenCILCO or by addressing the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission, 527 East Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

LEGAL PUBLICATION PUBLIC NOTICE
Notice of Proposed Tariff

Changes Gas Service Schedule Ill. C. C. No. 19

To the Gas Patrons of Central Illinois Light Company d/b/a AmerenCILCO:

AmerenCILCO hereby gives notice to the public that on June 5, 2009, it has filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission ("ICC" or "Commission") proposed changes in its rates, charges, classifications, rules and regulations for natural gas delivery services throughout its territory in Illinois. The changes in AmerenCILCO's rate schedules are proposed to take effect about May 2, 2010, after hearings and after the Commission issues its final Order.

This filing is designed to change AmerenCILCO's gas delivery service base rates and other charges to increase the Company's 2008 gas revenues by 11.8 percent based upon a normalized 2008 test year. The proposed changes result in a 16.2 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's proposed GDS-1 Residential Delivery Service classification. The rates for delivery service constitute only a portion of the total bill of a customer taking bundled natural gas service from AmerenCILCO, or taking supply service from a third-party supplier. Under the Company's proposal, for a residential customer using 530 therms annually (or approximately 44 therms monthly), the effect of the delivery service increase and other changes being proposed by Company produce a 4.9 percent average monthly bill increase for bundled service (or $2.84 monthly). For a residential customer using 785 therms annually (or approximately 65 therms monthly), the effect of the delivery service increase and other changes being proposed by Company produce a 4.0 percent monthly bill increase for bundled service (or $3.15 monthly). For a residential customer using 934 therms annually (or approximately 78 therms monthly), the effect of the delivery service increase and other changes being proposed by Company produce a 3.6 percent monthly bill increase for bundled service (or $3.27 monthly).

For non-residential customers, the proposed changes will result in a 1.0 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's proposed GDS-2 Small General Delivery Service classification; a 16.2 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's existing GDS-3 Intermediate General Delivery Service classification; a 1.0 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's existing GDS-4 Large General Delivery Service classification; a 16.4 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's proposed GDS-5 Seasonal Delivery Service classification; a 16.2 percent increase in the gas delivery service revenue for AmerenCILCO's existing GDS-6 Large Volume Delivery Service classification; and no change in the gas delivery service rate for customers in AmerenCILCO's proposed GDS-7 Special Contract Service classification. AmerenCILCO is proposing to cancel the present GDS-6 tariff sheets and instead, preserve the GDS-6 rate provisions as a new section within the proposed GDS-4 rate classification.

A copy of the proposed change in schedule may be inspected at the AmerenCILCO headquarters in Peoria, Illinois or online at www.icc.illinois.gov/e-docket/.

Customers should be advised that the Commission may alter or otherwise amend the rates or conditions of service after hearings are held pursuant to 83 Ill. Adm. Code. 200 and may increase or decrease individual rates in amounts other than those requested by AmerenCILCO.

All parties interested in this matter may obtain information with respect thereto either directly from AmerenCILCO or by addressing the Chief Clerk of the Illinois Commerce Commission, 527 East Capitol Avenue, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

U of I Extension Offers Learn-from-Home Farm Leasing Course

Landowners have many issues to deal with -- from how much to charge for rent, to what kind of lease agreement is best, to what they should expect from the farmer who is leasing the land. To help landowners sort through these decisions, University of Illinois Extension is offering the course Farm Management 120: Leasing for Farmland Owners.

U of I Extension experts will help participants understand how to determine cash rent and how to access information pertaining to land ownership. Participants will also learn about basic legal issues of land ownership, government payments, and how to financially protect their farm investment.

The email-based class starts August 24 and ends November 20. Participants download materials from their email and study at their own pace. In order to participate in this course, you need an Internet connection. Cost for the class is $65. The registration deadline is September 9.

To register, log on to <http://web.extension.uiuc.edu/champaigncenter>. Or, contact Kevin Brooks, kwbrooks@illinois.edu, 217-333-4901.

IL Budget Crisis Erodes Local Health Programs

The Illinois Association of Public Health Administrators (IAPHA), an organization representing 80 certified local health departments in Illinois, is asking Governor Quinn and the members of the Illinois General Assembly to preserve local health protection funds totaling $17 million dollars, in the 2010 budget. At this time, it appears that the funds provided to local health departments to provide critical health protection services, have been eliminated in the proposed FY 2010 budget.

These funds are used by local health departments to partially pay for core public health services such as communicable disease surveillance and control, enforcement programs to ensure that food is safely handled at restaurants and retail outlets, and inspections of private sewage disposal systems and water wells. IAPHA President Steve Laker said, "these are all programs that are the statutory responsibility of the IDPH but they are delegated to certified local health departments for the actual delivery of local regulatory services. Any reduction of these local funds would imperil the delivery of public health services to the residents of Illinois."

First H1N1 Influenza Case Confirmed in Putnam County

The Putnam County Health Department has received notification of the first confirmed H1N1 influenza case in Putnam County. A 49 year old female tested positive earlier this week for H1N1 by the Illinois Department of Public Health (IDPH) laboratory. The Putnam County Health Department's Communicable Disease staff is monitoring the situation.

Diana Rawlings, Putnam County Health Department Administrator, assures residents that "the health department is working closely with IDPH and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC) to monitor and keep residents informed."

The Putnam County Health Department would like to remind the community that it is important for everyone to be vigilant and take a shared responsibility to minimize the risk of spreading this respiratory disease and to protect themselves. To prevent the spread of flu, take the following precautions:

CLEAN - your hands and wash them often

COVER - your cough and sneeze

CONTAIN - contain your germs - stay home if you are sick.

Symptoms of H1N1 flu are similar to regular seasonal flu. If you have symptoms such as fever, cough, sore throat, body aches, headache, chills and fatigue, stay home and limit contact with others to avoid infecting them. Be sure to call and discuss your symptoms with your healthcare provider. If you have difficulty breathing or shortness of breath or are severely ill, seek immediate medical attention.

As with seasonal flu, there are certain people that are at higher risk of serious flu-related complications. This includes people 65 years and older, children younger than 5 years old, pregnant women, and people of any age with certain chronic medical conditions, such as asthma and diabetes.

For more information on H1N1 flu, call the Putnam County Health Department at 925-7326, the Illinois Flu Hotline at 866-848-2094 or visit the health department website at www.bpchd.org, the Centers for Disease Control website at www.cdc.gov/swineflu/ or the Illinois Department of Public Health website at www.idph.state.il.us/flu/swine_flu.htm.

PCHS Student Picnic to be Held July 23

Give Back This Summer and Donate Blood

Marshall-Putnam 4-H is hosting a Blood Drive during 4-H Show. Looking for a way to give back to your community this summer? This American Red Cross encourages eligible individuals to try donating for the first time, or continue donating if you're already a blood donor.

"The number one reason people give for why they don't donate blood is because no one asked them to," said Shelly Heiden, CEO of the local Red Cross Blood Services region. "On behalf of the Red Cross, I'm asking you to make an appointment to donate blood today- and to make the commitment to being a regular blood donor."

The need for blood is constant. Every day, patients in hospitals around the country need blood. When you donate blood through the Red Cross, you'll help provide the gift of life to patients in serious medical need - the gratification you'll feel when you donate is instant.

Upcoming Blood Donation Opportunity:

Date: Wednesday, July 15

Time: 12:00-6:00 p.m.

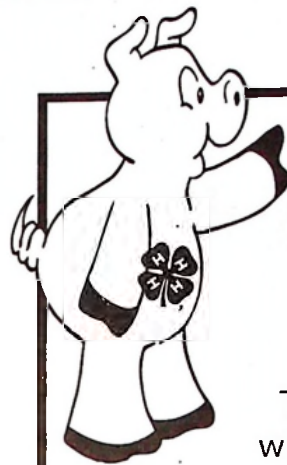

Place: Marshall-Putnam Fairgrounds, Commercial Building

Appointment Contact: Marshall-Putnam Extension Office, 309-364-2356

How to Donate Blood

Simply call 1-800-GIVE-LIFE (1-800-448-3543) or visit givebloodgivelife.org to make an appointment or for more information. All blood types are needed to ensure a reliable supply for patients. A blood donor card or driver's license, or two other forms of identification are required at check-in. Eligible donors must be at least 17 years old, or 16 years old with a signed Red Cross parental/guardian consent form where state permits, must weigh at least 110 pounds and be in general good health.

About the American Red Cross: It is governed by volunteers and supported by giving individuals and communities, the American Red Cross is the single largest supplier of blood products to hospitals throughout the United States. While local hospital needs are always met first, the Red Cross also helps ensure no patient goes without blood no matter where or when they need it.

U.S. Marine Gill "Juzzy" Serafini

Gil "Juzzy" Serafini
U.S. Marine

by Darrell Alleman

Rick Serafini asked me one evening at Rotary if I would write his Dad's story of his tenure in the U.S. Marines.

His father had enlisted in the Marine several days after Pearl Harbor was attacked by the Japanese. I told Rick I would be happy to, if he could gather a photo and some information for me to use. A few months later and a lot of research on Rick's part, this is his Dad's story exactly as Rick gave it to me. Rick is a great writer, and I know his Dad is very proud of him, Dan and Linda for telling his story. Although, he, like all veterans, never feel like heroes and do not want to tell about their experiences, his children, grandchildren and future generations will find it important to know just how terrible war really was and the sacrifices these soldiers made so we could all be free.

Gilbert and I coached Little League Baseball against each other in the 1960s and 70s. Gill coached Mark and I coached Magnolia. I had great respect for him as a baseball man. His little leaguers always knew how to play the game. He was coaching his sons, Dan and Rick, and I was coaching my sons, Kim and Scott. Later our paths crossed again when his grandson, David, and my grandson, Kyle, played on the Northern IL University "Huskies" baseball team together. We visited at their games in DeKalb.

It was a pleasure to know Gil. He was such a nice person. So, now it is great to read Rick's article about his Dad's service in WWII. I found it an interesting story and hope all of you enjoy it as much as I did.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Here follows excerpts from the story that Rick Serafini, his brother and sister wrote about their father. We are unable to print it in its entirety due to space considerations so salient points are written from their dialogue.)

by Dan, Linda & Rick Serafini

The story I am about to tell is taken from a number of stories our dad, Gill "Juzzy" Serafini told to us over the years about his experiences serving in the marines during World War II. He rarely spoke about his time in the service until the later years of his life and most of what follows was from that period. If he were still alive he would be turning 90 years old this year. He would have never approved of us telling his story to the paper so I'm sure somewhere up there he is pretty sore at us now.

The Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941 and almost immediately he and his buddies began talking about enlisting in the service. As he told us they knew it would only be a matter of time before they would be drafted so they might as well enlist and beat the government to the punch. He signed up to join the Marines in December, 1941 after he and his friends had all agreed to join as soon as possible. He said his vivid memory of the day he left on the train for the service was of him waving goodbye to all his friends who decided to wait for their draft notices.

He was sent to Paris Island in SC for basic training. The training was tough because the objective was to turn raw recruits into "ninety day wonders" or soldiers fit for combat. Juzzy wasn't the strongest swimmer so was frightened when they made recruits jump into the water with a full back pack. To make matters worse, the water had fuel ignited to make it as realistic as possible to a battle situation.

In early 1942 he was stationed in OH and was transferred to CA which was the staging point for Marines headed west. He was shipped overseas and met soldiers who defended Wake Island and had evacuated after it was attacked by the Japanese. He was becoming good friends with his buddies he went through boot camp with and that were with him as part of the 1st Marine Division.

Members of his platoon were called to line up and three names were picked to step forward for reassignment: Sadamore, Serafini and Studds. He found out that they were to become three replacements for another group to fill in for Marines hurt in training. He didn't like getting split from his group but he did have two other friends going with him. His new platoon was being assigned to a troop transport shipping out and heading SW. No one knew where they were going. Upon the first crossing of the equator all the first time soldiers and sailors had to pass an initiation in which they ran through a line-up of soldiers each with a stick or paddle and were rapped as they ran as fast as they could through the line. On the long trip there was little to do except menial tasks designed to keep the men busy.

The day he realized that something big was going to happen was when he awoke to find all types and sizes of ships had joined the convoy. The task force was led by Admiral Fletcher and consisted of 82 ships with the carriers Saratoga, Wasp and Enterprise leading the way. The task force was made up of some 11,300 Marines forming Combat Group A and another 10,000 or so forming Combat Group B. Most of the Marines were from the 1st and the 5th Marine Division. The 1st was mostly raw recruits with the 5th more seasoned and included the highly trained Marine Raiders.

Their briefing for the mission included explanations for them to expect heavy casualties and by morning's end one out of every two to land on the island would be either dead or wounded. After a long morning barrage of the island the Marines were loaded into the landing craft and made their way towards the island, landing on August 7, 1942. Amazingly they met no resistance upon landing. The Japanese had fled into the jungle and left the beaches open. It went so smoothly that the only mishap was that Juzzy had an ammunition crate dropped on his hand and smashed a finger.

Luck was about to change for the worse. Twenty miles across the channel a small island about two miles long called Tulagi, where the Japanese were putting up a fierce fight and were suffering heavy casualties, the Marines were put right back into the water and transported across the channel to support a Marine Raider battalion along with others from the 5th Marine Division. This was their first introduction to battle as they spent several days helping secure the island. Progress was slow and the soldiers made a human chain as they inched their way up the hillsides. Each one would move slowly as the man behind him held on to the boot of the man in front. Juzzy went without sleep for most of the time on the island and witnessed fierce night fighting. He remembered that they did not have flame throwers but instead made do with pouring gas into caves where the Japanese were hiding. He always applauded the bravery of the Marine Raiders and said they were the best fighters he ever saw. In the end only three Japanese of the 350 that occupied the island surrendered with the remaining 347 killed. A total of 122 Marines died taking Tulagi, along with the island of Gavuto-Tanambogo.

A funny story did come out of the action on Tulagi. One of the close friends had insisted on carrying with him a case of goods that he thought he would later sell to his fellow soldiers - for a huge profit, of course. When they landed, the firefight was so intense the soldier was ordered to leave his belongings on the beach or face being shot by his own commanding officer. He did and when dawn broke Juzzy looked over the beach below and saw the members of the Raiders had found the goods and were busy passing around the loot. He jokingly told his buddy that he should claim his property by asking if the tough Raiders would be kind enough to give him back his property!!

When Tulagi was cleared the soldiers were sent back to Guadalcanal where the Marines were beginning to encounter heavy fighting. The Marines had established a one mile perimeter on the island and were in the process of advancing to the airstrip. Thus began Juzzy's three month stay which would change his life forever. After reaching and securing the perimeter around the airfield, the perimeter would eventually grow to four miles and become the focal point of the battle. The Marines renamed the airfield Henderson Field after a pilot killed during the battle of Midway. Since the Japanese had not finished the airfield and had left heavy equipment, the Marines used it to finish the field.

The Japanese made attempts to penetrate the Marines' defense positions and would scream when charging, trying to scare the soldiers. Juzzy remembered the morning after several of the fire-fights and had viewed bodies of dead soldiers piled one on another. A big concern was disposing of all the dead as quickly as possible to avoid disease. With the high water table there was no way to dig mass graves so the operators of the heavy equipment would pile bodies into hillsides and cover them with whatever earth they could move.

On August 9th the campaign took a turn for the worse as the U.S. Navy suffered a crushing defeat in the battle of Savo Island just off the coast of Guadalcanal. Many claimed it was the worst Navy defeat in the history of our country. The Navy had lost several ships and had others badly damaged. In total the U.S. lost seven ships and nearly 1,800 men. The Pacific Command determined they would leave the Marines alone and head back to a safe port. Their commanders told them they had two weeks of ammunition and about one month's supply of food. With no support or supplies in the foreseeable future, the Japanese, with much shorter supply lines, were free to bring in thousands of troops and heavy naval power.

After continual air raids and skirmishes by the Japanese, supplies began to get low. The Marines were told they had to hold on to the last man no matter what. They were told the Japanese would soon bring reinforcements to try to finish off the Marines. They watched as several Japanese troop transports steamed into Guadalcanal at night loaded with fresh soldiers. The ships moved slowly up the coast and the Marines watched. Juzzy told his family that they landed only a few miles short of the target and the Marines would have had their positions easily overrun.

Things got so bad that during a particular portion of the fighting, they were told their position might be overrun and with reinforcements things looked bleak. They were told of the horrific treatment the Japanese gave to captured Marines and that each soldier could be faced with a decision of being taken prisoner. Juzzy said his buddy said that if they were ever caught in the jungle and facing capture, they could both count to three and shoot each other rather than be taken prisoner. Juzzy told him he was nuts! One of the Australian coast watchers gave him tips on how to survive in the jungle on his own. He said he would much rather take his chances like that than end things with a bullet.

Food was very scarce and what little they had to eat was terrible. Juzzy spoke of hard-tack and the little nutritional value it had. Fresh water was also not easy to come by without the possibility of picking up jungle diseases. The lack of food led to a personal account that he put down in writing shortly before his death. This is that account in his own words:

"The single major event that impacted me occurred in mid October of 1942. The Japanese had a bombing campaign that was supposed to break our lines. We Marines were on a ridge and the Japanese were using artillery to bomb us during the night and their aircraft were bombing us during the day. This strategy was being used on us for days and we were unable to rest or to have a meal. After a few days of this, all of us kept talking about the food that was buried on the beach. We could see the beach from the ridge where we were held up. We had seen the Sea Bees bury a large amount of food and rations under the sand on the beach. We were all getting real hungry and didn't know when we would get a hot meal again. We started daring each other as to who could run down to the beach and get a case of the food. After some time I had told them that I could make it there and back between the bombings. I had played soccer for years back home and was quite fast when I was young.

As it turned dark, the bombing from the aircraft had stopped but the Japanese had not yet moved their artillery in position to begin the shelling during the night. I ran down to the beach and was surprised to make it with no trouble. I had to dig around with my hands, but there was so much buried in the one area that it didn't take me long to find one of the boxes. I stood up and yelled to those back on the ridge showing them what I had found. Then, all of a sudden, the bombing started with me still on the beach. The bombs were hitting all around and it seemed to not stop. All I could do was lay down and pray. In fact, at one point, I thought I saw and heard the Chaplain yelling at me to stay down. All I could do was to scream and pray out loud. It was incredible and seemed to go on forever. It seemed like there were explosions everywhere on the beach. I remember lying there in the sand and praying that I not get hit and how going after the food seemed so crazy now. All I can remember is laying there and then everything went black and I passed out. I am not sure how long I was out, but the guys who were there said I was out for a while. I simply do not know. When I came back to consciousness, there were two of the men in my group holding me down by my arms and a third man was pouring whiskey down my throat. I remember the name of the whisky was Golden Wedding. I was screaming when I came to and it was hard to get my bearing. The guys told me that the reason the Japanese were bombing the beach was because there was ammunition as well as food buried there. I was never the same after that. It was like I didn't care anymore about what happened to me. I wasn't as afraid as I was before because I just didn't care."

Excerpts From A New Book by Greg Stanmar

Warren Gamaliel Harding

by Greg Stanmar

Sometimes a politician's story is too juicy to ignore, despite this book's focus on people who were legally caught up in their sins. One of those people we can't ignore is Warren Harding, who never spent a day in prison or in impeachment proceedings, but nonetheless is remembered for his scandals rather than his lackluster presidency.

Harding died in office before such things as the Teapot Dome scandal and his sexual promiscuity could touch him.

He was never comfortable with being the chief executive of America and lived down to his country's expectations of him.

Harding was born in rural Ohio at the end of the Civil War and put in a couple of years at a rural Ohio college, enough time to give him a bachelor's degree. He moved with his family to Marion, Ohio, after college, putting in brief stints as a teacher and insurance salesman before landing a job on the Marion Star. He was already acquainted with newspapers from his father's weekly and college jobs so his new position was something he liked and purchased the failing daily before his 20th birthday, thanks to a $300 loan from two friends.

Harding turned that ailing publication into a conservative voice to be reckoned with in Marion County politics. He used his position as publisher to become active in fraternal, church and business groups and caught the eye of Florence King DeWolfe, a wealthy divorcee, five years older than Harding and daughter of Amos King, an arch enemy. The couple married in 1891. Soon after, the handsome newspaperman began a string of affairs that would continue through his life.

Before the turn of the century he was elected to the Ohio legislature, the beginning of his political career, and met attorney Harry Daugherty, the beginning of a symbiotic relationship that would cause Harding much pain. Harding went from state legislature to lieutenant governor in two years but lost his bid to be governor in 1910.

He did better after giving the nominating speech for Howard Taft in 1912 and two years later was elected senator, a job he kept until politicians in Chicago were unable to settle on a nominee in 1920. From that deadlock emerged Harding. He chose not to mention an ongoing affair with the wife of a friend or his questionable associates and Republican bosses chose not to press him on it.

Harding ran on a platform of "a return to normalcy," beating out fellow Ohioan James Cox and running mate

Franklin Roosevelt. Though his campaign slogan may have sent chills up the spines of English teachers throughout the county his front porch style brought celebrities to Marion and admiration from the voters, who gave him a lopsided victory.

People were tired of post-war progressiveness and were ready to settle down to the normality, or normalcy, that Harding promised. His timing in history was also fortunate since this was the dawn of the modern campaign, and maybe more important, the beginning of the woman's vote.

Once at the White House Harding looked to his friends over the years as appointees. They were dubbed "The Ohio Gang," led by Daugherty, and their greed earned prison sentences for some, most notably Secretary of the Interior Albert Fell, who took bribes to allow oil leases on public land including the area named the Teapot Dome.

There is no evidence Harding made a nickel from these schemes though he once remarked that he feared his friends more than his enemies. Rumors of his affairs and an illegitimate daughter gathered steam after his death, probably of a heart attack.

Those postmortems continue beyond the century he lived, not giving the fellow a chance at historical revisionism that has salvaged other 20th Century presidents who at the time were considered lackluster. Dwight Eisenhower and Harry Truman come to mind among presidents who would earn a better place in history than their contemporaries would give them.

But Warren Harding will be remembered for his friends, in bed and elsewhere.

came the famous October 13th bombardment and the most intense shelling Juzzy had every experienced. The Japanese had a free run to bring their ships right down the "slot" which was what the waterway just north of the island was called. The plan was to attack and move the battleships, Kongo and Haruna, into point blank range of the island and concentrate firepower directly on the airfield knowing the Marines could do nothing to stop them. They fired over 970 shells from the battleship guns and some were designed to sink huge ships but instead were going to bomb the Marines into submission. It would become one of the most concentrated firepower that any U.S. soldier endured in the war. Juzzy said he laid in his foxhole throughout the night screaming and praying. He could hear one shell after another land and explode, each one capable of being the last one he heard.

The aftermath was terrible seeing so many soldiers killed by such horrific means and was something Juzzy never forgot. The situation was so desperate that the Japanese high command had drafted a letter of surrender for the Marines. The letter was later found and put on display for all to read. The letter had been tacked to a coconut tree. Thanks to the stiff resistance of the Marines and major infantry victories, the Japanese lost the initiative and were forced to take defensive positions around the airfield. They would eventually find their supply lines broken and were left to face defeat or starvation. The Marine surrender never took place.

Juzzy was weak from dysentery and malaria and had dropped to 115 pounds. He had also gotten trench mouth and later had to have all his teeth pulled. Based on his condition he was a candidate for shipment home and in early November the timing was right and the Marines got relief from the Army. Juzzy had accumulated a stash of Japanese flags, money, swords, and other souvenirs and kept them in his foxhole. When a plane landed to take out the sick and wounded, his commander asked if he would like to see Detroit. He didn't hesitate to say yes but left all his stash behind. He was sent to an island in the New Hebrides to rest and recuperate before going home to Detroit to see his family and his fiancée. He did return overseas from Sept. '43 to March '45 to several small islands in the Marshalls, including Kaudgaline. Before being shipped out a third time, the paperwork was stopped by a former commanding officer he had served under on Guadalcanal who said he had seen enough action and had done his part.

A memorial on Guadalcanal, which few if any Americans will ever see, reads: "They will live a long time, these men of the South Pacific. They had an American quality. They, like their victories, will be remembered as long as our generation lives. After that, like the men of the Confederacy, they will become strangers. Longer and longer shadows will obscure them, until their Guadalcanal sounds distant on the ear like Shiloh and Valley Forge."

The only remnants left for his children are his uniform, his division insignia, a diamond shaped patch with the number 1 representing the First Marine Division and the word Guadalcanal stitched on it, campaign ribbons and his marksman medal. Until his dying day he still had a terrific aim with a rifle and would teach us how he could hunt squirrels and rabbits with a rifle when it took a shotgun for his sons.

We wanted to tell his story because it is important; not just because we wanted to share our dad's story but because there are so few of these men left to tell us first-hand what they experienced. Soon their stories will be like others from wars fought long ago and left to history or forgotten altogether.

St. Margaret's Health Provides Haven During Extreme Temperatures

St. Margaret's Health has instituted an emergency shelter program to provide an environment for those people who are unable to tolerate extreme weather conditions such as power outages in extreme heat or no air conditioning. Those people who qualify must be capable of independent living and be able to care for themselves. St. Margaret's Para Transit will provide services for those participants who require transportation. These services will be provided during the normal business hours of the Para Transit Department.

There are some common sense guidelines to assist you during extreme temperatures:

- Spend some time in air conditioning, if possible. Even just two hours a day in air conditioning can significantly reduce the risk of heat-related illness.
 - Drink plenty of water and natural juices, even if you don't feel thirsty.
 - Slow down. Avoid strenuous activity.
 - Wear loose-fitting, lightweight, light-colored clothing.
 - Avoid going out in the blazing heat, if you can.
 - If you must be out in the sun, use sunscreen and wear a wide-brimmed hat.
 - Keep shades drawn and blinds closed, but windows open slightly.
 - Keep lights down low or turned off.
 - Take cool baths or showers periodically, use cool wet towels.
 - Eat small meals and eat more often. Avoid foods that are high in protein, which increase metabolic heat.
 - Avoid using the oven.
 - Avoid alcoholic beverages and beverages with caffeine such as coffee, tea and cola.
 - Avoid using salt tablets unless directed to do so by a physician.
 - Do not leave children or pets in a closed vehicle, even for a few minutes. Temperatures inside a closed vehicle can reach 140 to 190 within 30 minutes on a hot day.
 - Schools should restrict strenuous outdoor athletic activity when a heat advisory is in effect. All physical education and athletic activity should be canceled when a heat warning is in effect.
 - Stay informed about the heat wave by listening to NOAA Weather Radio, or commercial radio and television for the latest heat warnings and advisories.
- More information may be obtained by calling 815-664-5311 or 815-223-5346.

Schock Reiterates His Strong Support for Missile Defense

Congressman Aaron Schock (R-IL) reiterated his strong support for a comprehensive, multi-layered missile defense system by voting for two amendments to H.R. 2647, the Fiscal Year 2010 Department of Defense Authorization Act. Both amendments increase funding for the Missile Defense Agency (MDA) by $1.2 billion, restoring it to the Fiscal Year 2009 level. Unfortunately, both amendments failed.

"The top priority of the federal government is to protect the homeland from any threats," said Schock. "Cutting our missile defense system is an irresponsible and dangerously misguided choice given Iran and North Korea have demonstrated the capability and intent to pursue long-range ballistic missiles and nuclear weapon programs."

The amendments to H.R. 2647 included authorization to fully fund the Ground-based Midcourse Defense system and emplace all 44 interceptors. It also funds the Airborne Laser, Kinetic Energy Interceptor, the Multiple Kill Vehicle, and the Space Tracking and Surveillance System, all systems that were cut in this year's president's budget request.

Community "Service Above Self" Award Honors Memory Of Hubie Mennie

Rotary President Rick Serafini presented a plaque to Cheryl Mennie, honoring the memory of Hubert J. "Hubie" Mennie for "Service Above Self" and recognizing the Mennie family for their continuing commitment to local economic growth and the ideal of community service. Among the Mennie family members on hand for presentation of Rotary's "Service Above Self" were (left to right): Hubie Mennie's surviving wife, Cheryl Mennie, and children, Bill Mennie, Jennifer Smoode, Amy Cimei and David Mennie.

Granville Rotary's 2009 community "Service Above Self" award recognizes the Mennie family, and honors the memory of Hubert J. "Hubie" Mennie whose legacy of integrity in his business and personal life, following his untimely passing this April, continues as an inspiration to his family and to the community.

Presenting the honors to Cheryl Mennie at Rotary's annual banquet on June 25, Club President Rick Serafini related his own respect for Hubie over the years, during which he had known him both as a community leader and as an employer while serving as comptroller for Mennie's Machine Shop. Rick related that Hubie had started his machine shop in a 400 square foot garage off the house in 1970, eventually expanding into the magnificent building, and now also a second building, still in Mark, on Route 71. He took pride in his ability to keep the company here, in his goal to provide many jobs with good wages and benefits, and in the accomplishments of a local workforce, Rick recalled. The Mennie family have dedicated themselves to that endeavor, while also taking an active part in Church and community service projects, serving on local boards and contributing generously to many worthy causes.

Hubie Mennie's industrious spirit, enterprising courage and community involvement truly reflect the motto shared by Rotary, of "Service Above Self."

In addition to the plaque presented to the Mennie family, the Club will make a donation to the PC Food Pantry in recognition of the occasion.

Doyle Named Citizen of the Year in Hennepin

Debbie Doyle has been chosen as the Hennepin Larry Wilt Citizen of the Year for 2009. Doyle has been active in the Women's Club and the Baseball Committee as well as a vital member of her church. $1,000 was donated in her name to the PCEF. A formal presentation of her award took place during the Hennepin 4th of July celebration.

In 1985, the Larry Wilt Citizen of the Year Award was established in order to recognize and honor residents of Hennepin who contribute their time, energy and resources to improve the quality of life for everyone living here.

This is the 25th consecutive year that the award has been given. This year's recipient is Debbie Doyle.

Debbie has been a member of the Hennepin Baseball Committee for over 25 years. She and her husband, Larry, formed the first T-ball teams in Hennepin.

She has been the Secretary/Treasurer of the Hennepin Public Water District since 1977.

Debbie served as board member for the Hennepin Park District for 12 years from 1989

After 45 Years Ardene Peterson to Retire

by Joyce Myler

When I first moved to the IL Valley in 1970 and started working for Sundstrand in LaSalle, my job duties in Purchasing included purchasing airline tickets for the executives at the local plant. One of the first persons outside of Sundstrand that I talked to was Ardene (Bonucchi) Blakeslee (as she was known back then). After ordering the tickets, I would drive down to 2nd Street in LaSalle to LaSalle County Travel Agency and pick them up and return to my job. It was always a pleasure to go into the agency because Ardene was so friendly, bubbly and kind to her customers; one always left with a smile on their face. Over the 18+ years I was at Sundstrand, Ardene and I became good friends and when I left there, I missed her.

Last week I spoke with her about her past 45 years in the travel agency and she said that she started there in 1964 working with Ruth Mckowen. The travel agency back then was a great place to work because there were many perks that came along with the job. She took trips to Europe in the late 60's to Copenhagen, Denmark and Stockholm and to the Orient in the 70's. One of her favorite ways to travel were cruises - to anywhere!!

In 1986 she bought the LaSalle County Travel Agency with her business partner, Ruth "Billie" Bonnell and they ran it together until this past week when, after 45 years, Ardene decided to call it a day. She told me that when the travel agency was young it was normal for them to book a lot of corporate business.

However, in today's world of the internet and airlines being so competitive, there is no way to really get ahead in the travel agency business. They are not paid as they used to be by the airlines and the perks are completely gone. It is not the best business to be in now and most travel agencies have a very limited future.

Today, she is married to Bob Peterson and living in Granville. She and Bob got married in 2004. Their history goes way back, though, to when they were one year olds and had their picture taken together at a birthday party. They went through grade school together and in 8th grade both worked for Ardene's father and mother, Albert and Evelyn Bonucchi, in their grocery store. They graduated high school together and, even though they dated during all of high school, after graduation went their separate ways. They met again at their 25th class reunion in 1986. Bob took many golf trips with his buddies and he began having Ardene book those trips for him and his friends. As time passed they got back together and are now happily married.

Having known this very charismatic lady for the past 39 years, I, along with all who know her, wish her all the best in her retirement and in trying to keep up with Bob on the golf course.

Rotary Installs Terando as New President at July Meeting

Rick Serafini seems happy to hand the Rotary gavel to incoming President Lorraine Terando at the Club's June 25 installation ceremonies. Before accepting, Lorraine presented Rick with a plaque thanking Rick, on behalf of the Club, for his leadership throughout the past Rotary year.

The Granville Rotary Club held its annual banquet at SAMMS in Hennepin on June 25, marking the beginning of a new Rotary year that begins July 1.

Outgoing President Rick Serafini presented the Club's Community "Service Above Self" award to the Mennie family in honor and memory of Hubie Mennie, and Rotarian Scott Shore presented the Club's Student "Service Above Self" award to PCHS Senior Becky Nielsen, who helped organize and served as the first president of the Rotary-sponsored Interact Club, a student-run service club at Putnam County High School.

Danielle Stoddard was also recognized for her continuing great work as co-chair of the Rotary post-prom Afterglow Project.

Perfect Attendance Awards were then presented to 14 Rotarians, including Charter Year Members Bruno Buchholz and Jeno Bonucchi who have each achieved 42 years' perfect attendance ever since the Club's founding in 1967.

Rick Serafini was recognized with a plaque, scrapbook, and past-president's pin for his leadership as President during the past year. As he recounted in thanking all Rotarians for their efforts, the Club has sponsored numerous successful events and projects throughout the county, and contributed to many other worthwhile local causes, all with the well-appreciated support of the entire Putnam County community.

Lorraine Terando of Mark was then installed as Granville Rotary's next President by Club Chaplain Bruno Buchholz, who wished success and good luck to Lorraine and to the incoming Officers and Board of Directors. The new board will include Lorraine, Rick, Vice President Adriane Shore, and additional Board Members Darrell Alleman, Matt Hostetter, Jim Mack, Jay McCracken and Tom Simmons.

For more information or to inquire about becoming a member of Granville Rotary, contact Lorraine Terando at 339-2279 or visit www.rotary6420/granville.com.

Letter to the Editor

I would like to give a big round of applause to Tim Rylko, Gene Dixon, Andrew Brouwer, Seth Hollocker, Sean King, Brandon Roadhouse and Zack Roadhouse for their fantastic efforts in getting Hennepin in tip top shape for our 4th of July festivities, especially during the preceding week of 90+ degree temperatures and the delayed events due to rain on the 4th. We should consider ourselves fortunate to have such hard working and dedicated employees who go the extra mile for us, not just on the 4th, but every day of the week.

Kudos, and hats off to you, gentlemen.

Rain Doesn't Stop Celebration

Despite Mother Nature's efforts to wash out Hennepin's July 4th Celebration, most all of the original schedule was completed. Thanks to the tremendous cooperation of the entertainment groups, vendors, fireworks shooting crew, committee members, local radio stations and the "email community," the afternoon and evening schedule were successfully moved to Sunday, July 5th.

Sunday brought a picture perfect day and the turnout at the park and fireworks show was outstanding. The bocce tournament was played on Saturday with nine teams braving the rain. The Cruise in brought in a few entries but could not be rescheduled. However, most participants received a trophy! The bags tournament kicked off Sunday's schedule, followed by the children's games and the entertainment program. The fireworks filled a clear, calm sky over the river, and Slow Tuesday closed out the evening with a terrific performance.

The Village of Hennepin and the July 4th Committee is very grateful to everyone who helped to "save" our celebration. Thank you!

My what big ears you have!!!

The Putnam County School

District Open House

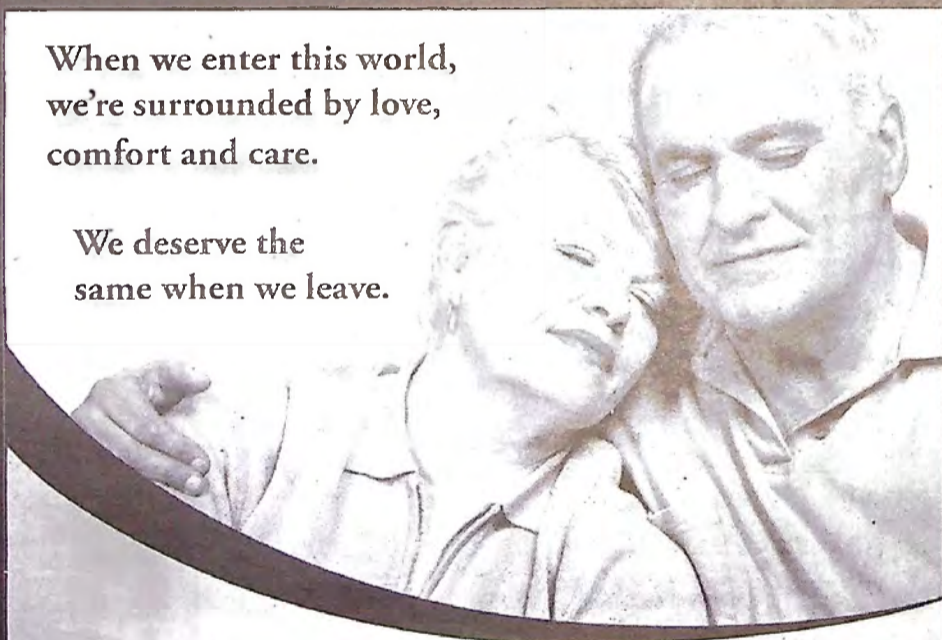

On July 25th to celebrate the completion of the new Putnam County Primary School, an open house will begin at 11:00 a.m. with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The school, located at Elm and Silverspoon in Granville, will be open to the public from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. Guided tours and a historical display by the Hopkins Alumni Association will be featured.

The new school sits on the site of the Putnam County Elementary School Hopkins Building badly damaged in the April 20, 2004 tornado. Using insurance settlement monies and grants from the Illinois Capital Development Board and the Illinois and Federal Emergency Management Agencies (IEMA/FEMA) the Putnam County Board of Education has replaced the Hopkins Building with a state of the art $6.5 million school for pre-school through second grade. No local funds were used to fund the project. The 39,240 square foot building was designed by Healy Bender and Associates, a Naperville architectural firm. Construction oversight was by Sohio General Contractors of Plainfield.

Kindergarten, first and second grades have moved to begin the 2009/2010 school year from the elementary school in Hennepin where they have been temporarily housed since the tornado. Pre-school has moved from the junior high in McNabb, its temporary home. At Putnam County Primary School teachers and students will have a great new space for learning.

Letter to the Editor

Informational Call To Action

We the concerned members of USW Local 7367 along with our elected Federal, State, County, City Government Officials, local business leaders, and concerned residents of the entire Illinois Valley, together we are taking action against the reckless and misguided business practices of Arcelor-Mittal Steel Corporation.

ArcelorMittal has adopted a "counter-stimulus" economic program which involves this International Corporation taking our profitable and productive steel producing plant, and after closing it, refusing to give interested parties an ample amount of time to pursue and potentially reach an agreement on the purchase of our facility. This goes against all promises that were made by Company officials to Union and Governmental Officials on February 4, 2009 in Washington DC and countless times since. Instead they choose to dismantle it and ship vital and strategic manufacturing equipment to their other off-shore plants thus out-sourcing OUR jobs that relate to them.

We stand together today to not only try and save our jobs, but also future jobs and the economic well being of our entire area.

If you are one of the concerned citizens reading this letter, please stand with us to help stop this injustice from a large global company.

If you were sent here to help ArcelorMittal destroy this plant and the economic well being of the workers, families, businesses, schools, and area communities, please consider the ramifications of your actions. There are willing buyers ready to put people back to work in this plant. Putting people back to work is the answer for this area and the rest of the country.

Arcelor Mittal's chief financial officer, speaking to investors, indicated that Arcelor Mittal plans to spearhead the effort to close down capacity in America and has hopes that other steel makers will follow their lead. In late April and again very recently, Mr. Lakshmi Mittal himself publicly stated that he had no plans to close any of his plants. We cannot allow this company to continue to mislead us, our governmental officials, and all of America. This corporate mentality of take the money and run has to be stopped. We cannot afford to lose any more American jobs needlessly.

We MUST stand together to stop ArcelorMittal's aggressive drive to gut our mill and their rush to destroy another part of the American manufacturing base.

THANK YOU!!!
Members of Local 7367

Acreage Reporting Deadline

Because of extreme weather conditions, many producers have not filed a 2009 acreage report. Producers may also need to request prevented planting or reported failed acreage. Where the crop year 2009 crop acreage deadlines have not passed for 2009, the final crop reporting dates are extended to August 14th with the exception of the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP).

Producers enrolled in NAP are required to file an acreage report by the extended acreage reporting date but no later than 15 calendar days before the onset of harvest if that is earlier than the extended acreage reporting date.

Acreage reports filed after August 14 will require a late filed fee.

Additional information on acreage reporting is available at county FSA offices or online at www.fsa.usda.gov.

Crooks & Creeps

Excerpts From A New Book by Greg Stanmar

Gary Hart

In one of the classic, "That's not really what I meant" moments in political history, presidential candidate Gary Hart's ambitions went down in the flames of lust when reporters did just what he suggested in 1988.

Hart was a rising star in Democratic politics when he managed George McGovern's 1972 run for the White House. When his candidate easily lost to Ronald Reagan no one really counted it as a loss for Hart. How could a guy compete with the gipper? Hart got the public exposure that won him a U.S. Senate seat in 1974 and again in 1980. In 1984 he decided it was time to make a run for president himself, though Reagan had the job locked in.

Then, in 1988 the job was open and Hart was the front runner for the Democratic nomination by 20 percentage points. The time had arrived for the Ottawa, KS native to truly not be in Kansas anymore, to paraphrase a popular movie line from "The Wizard Oz."

Gary Hartpence was born in 1936, three years before the movie came out. Hartpence changed his name just before people started reading about him in the national press. By 1964 he had picked up a Yale law degree to go with his new name. He worked for a year with the Federal Department of Justice and two years with the Department of the Interior. He then spent seven years in private practice in Denver, slowly getting involved in politics.

Hart's strategy of running early, something he had used successfully when managing McGovern's campaign, seemed to be working in 1984, though Walter Mondale eventually won the nomination.

Hart declined to seek senate re-election to a third term, instead concentrating on the 1988 presidential campaign, figuring he made an acceptable run four years earlier and had since sharpened his political skills. By the time he announced his intentions, though, reporters had also sharpened their skills as well—or at least discarded some taboos about reporting on a politician's personal life.

Rumors about Hart and the ladies immediately surfaced when he announced his candidacy in the March, 1987. It irritated Hart enough that in April he told a New York Times reporter to follow him around and they will "be very bored."

Reporters spotted a woman visitor leaving Hart's home at an odd hour and the country's press corps took up Hart's invitation to follow him, as poll numbers began to drop.

Finally, a scenario developed that would get a Hollywood screen writer sent to do soap operas if it were proposed as a fictional story, A Miami Herald team snapped a photograph of then 29-year-old Donna Rice sitting on the lap of 51-year-old Hart while aboard the yacht "Monkey Business." He dropped out of the race at that point but a poll later in the year showed two-thirds of the nation thought the press was unfair and more than half did not think his monkey business would affect the job he did.

Hart's wife, Lee, being the good politician's wife, stood by her man and he was back in the race. Unfortunately, Hart believed what the public said and not what it meant and soon was out of the race for good.

"Here's Your Sign!"

Jonah 1:1-4:11--Matthew 12:38-40

What sign? The sign of Jonah! Early Christians who were being persecuted used the fish symbol. The secret sign of the fish (sign of Jonah) was used to let other Christians know where they were located. The popular fish containing the acronym "ICTHUS" refers to "Jesus Christ, God's Son, Savior." This fish is a symbol for Christians; acknowledging that we are "Fishers of men"

When Jesus was asked for a "sign" to show proof that He was the Messiah. Jesus told the Pharisee's that the only sign they would receive was the sign of the prophet, Jonah. "Just as Jonah was in the belly of the Whale for three days and three nights; so shall the Son of Man be in the grave for three days and three nights." Mt. 12:38-40. As we know, on the third day, God appointed the whale to throw up Jonah on dry ground...unharmful. On the third day Jesus Christ gave proof of being Messiah when He arose from the grave.

This year for VBS, church members worked together to create something that the kids won't soon forget. "A Whale Of A Story" is for everyone; a wonderful family event.

Just as Jonah was in the belly of the whale three days and nights; so shall VBS be held for three days; July 19, 20, 21; from 6-8:00 p.m. Everyone is welcome...the whale is so BIG—it can swallow you! Without a doubt, it's the biggest fish around. Don't miss this wonderful time of learning more about Jesus, the Resurrection, love and forgiveness. Something the whole family can enjoy together.

The sign of Jonah is so valuable in understanding the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. Too often, the story of Jonah and whale is "just a good moral story." To say "this story" is true causes many people to pass judgment on the event. If you think it's a good moral teaching but nothing more, you are saying that Jesus lied when He told the Pharisee's about the sign of Jonah. The people of Nineveh repented; from the king on down—everyone put on sackcloth and repented; and they were saved.

While Jonah is considered a "minor prophet," the content of this book is major in content, Jesus told the Pharisees the only sign they would see is the sign of Jonah. While some people have difficulty with the Resurrection; God's power is seen in "Jonah and the whale." If Jesus equates Jonah's three days and three nights in the belly of the whale, it gives validation to the fact that on the third day Jesus Christ rose from the grave.

Jonah wasn't an enthusiastic example of a prophet who wanted to serve God. There is a saying "you can run, but you can't hide—you will be found." Jonah ran away, and hid in the bottom of the ship, thinking God wouldn't know where he was. Sometimes we have a tendency to run or hide from God because we are unwilling or stubborn. Like Jonah, the Lord lets us know who is in charge. We find some things we do in serving the Lord seem easy and well received; and there are other times when we would just as soon pass on the opportunity to serve the Lord. Jonah tended to vacillate in his eagerness to preach to the people of Nineveh. Although Jonah pouted, he did fulfill his call! He called out to God to save him when he was in the whale; God heard his prayer. Jonah repented and God forgave him. God is faithful even when we moan and groan about life and what we are to do. "TRUST AND OBEY."

I wish for one more day now that you're gone
To thank you.
To see your handsome caring face one more time.
To be able to call You Husband/Dad.
Now that you're gone.
One more meal.
One more motor home ride.

One last "See you later Mama Moska/Sweet-tart."
Last night I saw you.
Wishing it was real.
Not believing that only in my heart is where I see you
It is so hard to realize that this is reality.
You will always remain in our hearts 'til the day we are together again.

It's hard to believe it's already five years.
We have been through a lot in those five years without you, but we have learned a lot, especially who our friends are.

Love and Miss You Lots,
Your wife Barb

Information Pickets Stand the Line at ArcelorMittal

by C.R. Arnold

The American dream is slipping through the fingers of the ArcelorMittal steelworkers in Hennepin. The Hennepin plant is idled along with many other steel producing facilities in the U.S.

Picketers manning the information line at the Hennepin facility are angry and confused by ArcelorMittal Steel's refusal to sell the plant to an interested buyer. The CFO, Aditya Mittal, indicates that he wants to dismantle the Hennepin mill but will not demolish it because that would create environmental liabilities.

On Monday, July 13, one crew arrived in Hennepin to remove two stretch wraps, a lathe, and a roll grinder but when they saw the picketers at the entrance to the mill, they went to the guard shack to make a phone call and then left the site.

Al Segars, a former crane operator in the mill stated, "We will be here every day until the mill is dismantled or sold. We are extremely pleased that the workers who came on Monday left without removing any equipment. ArcelorMittal Steel is trying to destroy steel producing facilities in the U.S. making us dependent on foreign steel."

•• Steelworkers Public Prayer Service at Arcelor-Mittal

On July 22 at Noon at the main plant entrance there will be a prayer service held with the local steelworkers and community. You are urged and invited to attend to show your support for the county, friends and neighbors.

Putnam County Final Multiplier Announced

Putnam County has been issued a final property assessment equalization factor of 1.0598, according to Brian Hamer, Director of the IL IRS. The property assessment equalization factor, often called the "multiplier," is the method used to achieve uniform property assessments among counties, as required by law. The equalization is particularly important because of the state's 6,600 local taxing districts overlap into two or more counties (e.g., school districts, Jr. college districts, FPD, etc.) Under a law passed in 1975, property in IL should be assessed at 1/3 of its market value. Farm property is assessed differently with farm homesites and swellings subject to regular assessing but farmland assessed at 1/3 of its economic value.

Assessments in PC are at 31.45% of market value, based on sales of properties in 2005, 2006 & 2007. The equalization factor currently assigned is for 2008 taxes, payable in 2009. Last year's factor was 1.0233. Final assessment factor was 1.0274.

A change in the factor does not mean total property tax will increase or decrease. Tax bills are determined by local taxing bodies when they request money to provide services to local citizens.

The assessed value of an individual property determines what portion of the tax burden a specific taxpayer will assume and is not changed by the multiplier.

Registration for PC Schools

Registration for Putnam County Schools will be held Wednesday, July 29 and Thursday, July 30 at the Putnam County High School for all grade levels.

Registration times each day will be 9:00 a.m. to Noon and 1:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. If parents have questions, the new phone number is 815/882-2800. The school staff is excited about this upcoming school year, and we anticipate an excellent registration process.

The Putnam County School District Open House July 25

On July 25th to celebrate the completion of the new Putnam County Primary School, an open house will begin at 11:00 a.m. with a ribbon cutting ceremony. The school, located at Elm and Silverspoon in Granville, will be open to the public from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. Guided tours and a historical display by the Hopkins Alumni Association will be featured.

The new school sits on the site of the Putnam County Elementary School Hopkins Building badly damaged in the April 20, 2004 tornado. Using insurance settlement monies and grants from the Illinois Capital Development Board and the Illinois and Federal Emergency Management Agencies (IEMA/FEMA) the Putnam County Board of Education has replaced the Hopkins Building with a state of the art $6.5 million school for pre-school through second grade. No local funds were used to fund the project. The 39,240 square foot building was designed by Healy Bender and Associates, a Naperville architectural firm. Construction oversight was by Sohler General Contractors of Plainfield.

Kindergarten, first and second grades have moved to begin the 2009/2010 school year from the elementary school in Hennepin where they have been temporarily housed since the tornado. Pre-school has moved from the junior high in McNabb, its temporary home. At Putnam County Primary School teachers and students will have a great new space for learning.

Area Projects

Awarded State Funds

Various projects in the Illinois Valley area will benefit in the receipt of almost $9 million from Governor Pat Quinn's $31 billion construction plan. Sen. Gary Dahl was quoted as saying, "It's going to be good for the Illinois Valley area."

IVCC is due to receive about $23 million for the upcoming tech center. Other area projects to be awarded are:

Hennepin will receive approximately $851,685 for railroad bridges; Tonica will receive $280,000 for a new public works building and garage; McNabb fire station resurfacing of the lot will get $70,000; PC EMA will receive $300,000 for a new building; the villages of Standard, Putnam, Mark and Lostant about $25,000, along with Van Orin, Hollowayville, Malden, and Troy Grove.

Capital Improvements in Princeton for three projects total $375,000; Utica will get infrastructure improvements and the village will get state and federal funds for Rte. 178 realignment of about $827,323; Starved Rock State park should receive $500,000 for roof repair at the lodge; the IL Veterans Home in LaSalle will get $210,000 for pipe replacement; Bureau County was awarded $250,000 for courthouse improvements and $150,000 for communication upgrades in the sheriff's department. Bureau Junction is awarded $215,000 to build a new fire station. Other municipalities were awarded some funds for infrastructure improvements such as: Peru at $350,000; Ottawa and Mendota $300,000; Spring Valley and Ladd $200,000; Earlville, Oglesby and DePue $150,000; Cherry, Arlington, Dalzell $50,000; and Wyanet, Walnut, Ohio, Sheffield and Manlius should receive funds of around $50,000 each.

Granville Rotary recognized PCHS Interact President Becky Nielsen at the Club's annual banquet held at SAMMS on June 25. The award for student "Service Above Self" reflects the motto of Rotary International, and honors Becky's commitment and leadership as one of the organizers of the new Rotary-sponsored student service Club.

Presenting the award as Rotary-Interact liason, Rotarian Scott Shore noted that the Interact has had a very busy and successful Charter Year. With 58 members, the Club had participated in "Project Sticker Shock" (stemming alcohol sales to minors), hosted a Children's Halloween Craft Day and helped out the McNabb-Magnolia Junior Women's Club Children's Halloween Party, all before their Charter Night Celebration hosted by Granville Rotary on November 13.

The Club went on to help with an American Legion fish fry, helped the Rotary Club deliver nearly 700 Christmas poinsettias to senior citizens, co-hosted the Rotary's Good Friday Red Cross Blood Drive, participated again in the Spring version of "Project Sticker Shock," helped Rotarians prepare for the post-prom Afterglow, and donated $100 to Shelter Box USA, an international disaster relief project.

Becky's recognition included a commemorative gift, framed certificate, and a donation from Rotary to the Interact Club. Becky is the daughter of Jerry and Jill Nielsen, who were also invited guests of the occasion.

Granville Rotary will host its second annual Summer Cook-Out on July 23 for incoming PCHS freshmen through seniors wanting to learn about, or wanting to join the Interact Club.

The Evolution of Teach for America

EDITOR'S NOTE: Putnam County graduate DJ Haun has been accepted to be a part of Teach for America. We thought you might be interested in the program he is involved in. DJ graduated from Northwestern in June.

D.C. Schools Chancellor Michelle Rhee and her fellow Teach for America alumni could bring a new approach to education reform

If you want to quickly become the most unpopular person in a city, close down a school. No, make that 23 schools. Then, fire 34 principals, offer buyouts to 700 teachers (while pressuring hundreds more to leave), and fire 98 employees from the school district's central office. That's what Michelle Rhee, chancellor of schools in Washington, D.C., has done since she took control of the district in the summer of 2007.

Of course, she's not trying to make friends; she's trying to turn around one of the nation's most troubled school districts. Rhee got her first experience with challenged schools when she taught second grade in Baltimore as a Teach for America corps member, and this particular element of her background has brought additional attention to her efforts as D.C. schools chancellor.

For nearly 20 years, Teach for America has persuaded thousands of the nation's brightest college graduates to spend two years teaching in the neediest schools. But TFA's advocates and alumni cite an even bigger goal: That, armed with frontline teaching experience, former TFA corps members will attain education leadership roles where they ultimately can enact meaningful change. As the first TFA alum to gain control of a major urban school district, Rhee could determine the future not only for D.C. schools but also for Teach for America's role in education reform.

Much of what drives her today, Rhee says, is what she learned in TFA 15 years ago, teaching second graders at Harlem Park Elementary School in a rough neighborhood in Baltimore. Rhee says the first year was extremely difficult. She cites one girl's story in particular: "One day, [the student] came into the classroom and her head was soaking wet, and I was like, 'What did you do? Why is your head all wet?' And she's like, 'I tried to drown myself in the water fountain.'" Instead of backing away from the challenges, Rhee opted to stay with the program for an additional third year. "I wasn't going to let 8-year-olds drive me out of town," she says.

Her students went from the 13th percentile on standardized national tests to the 90th percentile within two years' time. "People say that kids are disadvantaged because they come from poor homes or whatever," says Rhee. "But the bottom line is that, if kids have teachers with extraordinarily high expectations of them, if they work hard and do the right things, they can absolutely achieve at the highest levels."

Now, Rhee applies that intensity to her job as chancellor, which pays $275,000 per year. As someone who believes that TFA teachers are tops, she's bringing them into the District in unprecedented numbers. Furthermore, she's negotiating with the teachers' union to do away with seniority and tenure in exchange for annual raises and other benefits, a policy that might lure young, high-achieving teachers, like those who come out of Teach for America.

But it's not so much that Teach for America teachers are coming to D.C. as that the TFA alumni are moving to town. They represent 1 in 10 of the District's principals, and several, like Kaya Henderson, Rhee's new deputy chancellor, and Abigail Smith, assistant to the deputy mayor for education, hold influential positions in the city schools. Other alumni head educational think tanks, craft legislation and policy, or run nonprofits.

Like Rhee, they all were once talented college seniors groping for a future, attracted by the allure of a new community service program. "I think what Teach for America has done quite brilliantly is to create something that's compelling and inspiring to people but also is going to be attractive to high-achieving people because it's very selective," says Rhee. Indeed, last year, TFA had 25,000 top graduates apply for 3,700 spots. For the 2008 corps, the average college GPA was 3.6.

TFA says there's a "second prong" to its program: It's not training future teachers so much as future leaders. "I do believe that Teach for America alumni have had a gigantic impact on the education policy today," says Kane. "If I'm in a meeting where there's a really smart, perceptive young person who is making an important point that I haven't thought of before, almost inevitably these days, I find out that that person is a Teach for America alumna or alumnus."

The evidence is more than anecdotal. TFA is a data-oriented organization and is very effective at tracking the career trajectories of its alumni. The organization surveys graduates regularly. Some of the results are posted on TFA's website, but most are kept within the organization and used for analytical purposes. A breakdown of survey respondents' career fields suggests that TFA alumni ascend the education hierarchy. For instance, although only 1 percent of alumni from the most recent group (2002-2005) are principals, that number rises to 13 percent for the group that preceded it (1996-2001), and to 20 percent for the group before that (1990-1995). The numbers for assistant principals are similar: from 3 percent, to 7 percent, to 12 percent. And as for superintendents and district-level administrators: from 0 percent, to 1 percent, to 4 percent.

The most recent data show that roughly two thirds of TFA alumni are working in the field of education, almost a third stay in teaching, and the odds that any given Teach for America veteran will be serving as a principal, vice principal, or other administrator are a little better than 1 in 20. TFA has produced 335 principals, 48 percent of whom lead public charter schools, while 47 percent lead traditional public schools.

At the TFA alumni summit in D.C. this past spring, founder Wendy Kopp said that one of TFA's roles is to make clear paths to the principalship and to encourage alumni to run for elected office. "We're trying to take good ideas to scale," says David Wakelyn, another TFA alum and a senior policy analyst for the National Governors Association. "And that's one of the things that's so exciting about Michelle: Here is someone who's going to be working to scale."

Though nationally prominent, the District is small enough that education reformers could build momentum to create change. Susan Schaeffer says the opportunity has been a long time in coming: "Way back when we were corps members, we used to say, 'If we ran this place, if we were in charge...' And now, 10 or 12 years later, we are in charge, we are the principals, sitting on school boards, working for D.C. public schools. We can no longer turn around... we need to do it."

PCHS Ag Museum Open House August 2nd

On Sunday, August 2nd, the Putnam County Historical Society will host its annual Ag Museum Open House from 11:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m. at the Museum in Hennepin. Thanks to a grant from the Illinois Humanities Council this year's open house will feature Cooking in the 1850's with Ellie Carlson.

The 1850s housewife had many of the same challenges modern homemakers have: what to feed the family that is healthy, affordable and available. Unlike today, however, she also needed to contend with issues such as milk curdling before she got the butter made; making a tough old chicken tender enough to serve; and curing her family's illnesses with only medicines she made herself. Ellie Carlson, an Illinois Humanities Council Road Scholar, has researched the cooking techniques, period appropriate ingredients, and recipes of the 1850s homemaker. The demonstration is done in costume, with tools, recipes and ingredients that could have been used in the Illinois in the mid-1850s, right around the time Lincoln was debating Douglas.

The public will be invited to try their hand at cooking as great-grandma did. There will also be a chance to taste a little of the results of your efforts.

Our featured display this year is a collection of over 100 shaving mugs and straight razors. There will also be a display centered on the coal mining in Putnam County.

Hay rack rides will again be provided. Lunch options will be made available for purchase - pork chops, BBQ, and hot dog meals which include your sandwich, cole slaw, baked beans, chips, cookies and choice of ice tea or lemonade.

The Pulsifer House will also be open that day for tours. The featured display this August is an antique button collection. This collection must be seen to be appreciated.

All admissions are free. They look forward to seeing you on the 2nd.

PC Elementary School Launches Box Tops Fundraiser

McNabb-Magnolia Jr. Women's Club announced the launch of their 2009-2010 Box Tops for Education fundraising campaign. Last year the students and staff raised over $3,000.

The class that earned a pizza party for collecting the most was Mrs. Lucas' 4-B. The club would like to thank all who submitted box tops and made this a successful year.

Box Tops for Education is a school fundraising program started by General Mills in 1996. To date, Box tops has helped America's schools raise over $250 million to buy the things they need but can't always afford, such as library books, school supplies and playground equipment.

If you'd like to help the students reach their goal, there are several easy ways to get involved:

- Clip Box tops from hundreds of favorite products and give to any elementary grade student or staff member.

- You can also drop off at local businesses that have containers to collect box tops; they are First State Bank in McNabb, Casey's and P.C. Foods in Granville, and North Central Bank in Hennepin.

- Sign up to support Putnam County Elementary School on the Box Top website at btfe.com. The new Putnam County Primary School will also be available this fall. It is not currently on the website.

For more information, visit btfe.com or contact Becky Johnson at 815/878-7531.

Youth Theatre's "How to Eat Like A Child"

"How to torture your sister" is a lesson that is presented to the audience in the RVP Youth theatre show How to Eat Like a Child. We have all seen how brothers and sisters "torture" each other, sometimes they are merciless, but most of the time it is humorous...our 4 boys instruct you on how to do this just perfectly!! The residents of Heartland Healthcare can attest to this. Jill Elliot, activities director, invited the cast to give the residents a sneak peek at the show. They were thoroughly entertained. 26 young actors are ready to show you (from a kids perspective) how to get through life's everyday lessons...we have all been late picking our kids up at one time or another... you will see in "Waiting" the effect we have...or has your child ever brought a dog home and begged to keep it?

Yep, that lesson is there too...How many times have your kids tried to convince you that they were sick so they could stay home from school? This has a great twist!!!

How to Eat Like a Child will be presented at St. Mary's Center on Saturday, July 25 at 7:30 (doors open 6:30) and Sunday, July 26 at 2 (doors open 1).

Tickets at the door only. Adults $8; Children (12 under) $5. Concessions Available..364-2587.

Hear His Word

Getting "Self" Out of the Way

Have you ever noticed SELF gets in the way of what we are called to do? When I was in my late teens, my aunt Linda, who I was close to, said "Jack, you are conceited!" I was floored. How dare she! I thought, "That's just not right to say that about ME, because, well ... I like ME." It all comes down to your SELF. In order to do something good for you, you must first talk SELF into it. And, in order to keep your hide out of trouble you must first talk SELF out of it.

In order to be ready for an awesome event with Christ, we first must remove SELF. Notice Matthew 16:15-28; Jesus was looking at the big picture and knew He had to give His own life away just to offer each one of us a chance to live forever in paradise. Peter, however, was focused on his own little world and could not see what Jesus was trying to do. This passage has always been very interesting to me. One moment we see Peter called by Christ to be a "rock"... the very foundation of the new fellowship Jesus was starting (the Church) and then just a few words later, we see Jesus calling him Satan! Can you believe it? Not unlike MY self; on the mountaintop one minute and in the valley the next, just laying there with my foot shoved way down deep in my mouth!

Left to our own wisdom, we soon find the ditch. Look at all the well known Bible characters: Noah, Moses, Peter, Paul - all thought of very highly. Yet, it is not who they were that brought them to greatness, but who their God is! They followed His wisdom. I say to you, their greatness is not beyond our reach... because... we serve the same God they did. He can do even greater things through us if He so chooses. And I believe He wants to but we must get our SELF out of the way and put Him first in all we do.

"Then Jesus said to his disciples, 'If anyone would come after me, he must deny himself and take up his cross and follow me. For whoever wants to save his life will lose it, but whoever loses his life for me will find it. What good will it be for a man if he gains the whole world, yet forfeits his soul?'" (Matthew 16:24-26, NIV). If you are wondering how to be used of Christ in a powerful way, I encourage you to PRAY - Pause and Reach Above Yourself. Get out of your comfort zone and ask God to let you be a part of what He is doing in the world today and every day. You never know what great adventure is just waiting for you when you simply get SELF out of the way.

In His love,
 Pastor Jack

Schock Announces $200,000 for Goodwill Industries of Central Illinois

Congressman Aaron Schock (R-IL) announced Goodwill Industries of Central Illinois would be receiving a grant for $200,000 from the Department of Veterans Affairs' (VA) Homeless Veterans' Reintegration Program (HVRP). The grant will be used to expedite the reintegration of homeless veterans into the labor force.

"I'm grateful for this grant which will allow Goodwill Industries to continue their important work of helping veterans reintegrate back into the workforce," said Schock. "Especially in a time of war, it's absolutely crucial we commit resources to ensuring our veterans have the appropriate emergency shelter, counseling and employment assistance."

"This grant will allow us to provide employment and vocational services in combination with our traditional housing support," said Patty Fuchs, President & CEO of Goodwill Industries. "Far too many veterans are homeless and with this support, and the support of the VA and Congressman Schock, we can continue to help veterans get back on their feet."

HVRP grantees enroll thousands of homeless veterans annually in programs that involve emergency shelter, substance abuse counseling and treatment (including long-term treatment using the Department of Veterans Affairs medical facilities if necessary), job counseling and referrals, employment assistance, transportation, housing and clothing. The general practice is to deal with homeless veterans from a holistic perspective, with the ultimate goal of putting these veterans in meaningful employment. Job counseling, resume preparation, job development and placement are among the services that may be provided.

Putnam County Unveils State-of-the-Art Primary School

by Elin Arnold

The 39,240 sq. ft. Primary School was unveiled to the public for the first time during an open house and ribbon cutting ceremony hosted by the Putnam County School Board on Sat., July 25. The building was designed by Healy Bender and Associates, a Naperville architectural firm and built by Sohol General Contractors of Plainfield.

The school is a showcase of modern technology, large classrooms, a full-size gym, and an unusual "Alumni Hall" where the Hopkins Alumni Association has picked out items from the original Hopkins High School art and artifact collection for display.

The Putnam County Primary School sits on the site of the Putnam County Elementary School that was severely damaged during the tornado of 2004 that ripped through Granville giving the community a unique opportunity to perform a face-lift in several locations of the town.

After much controversy the Putnam County Board of Education voted to build the new school in Granville using insurance settlement money and grants from the Illinois Capital Development Board and the Illinois and Federal Emergency Management Agencies. The $6.5 million dollar school was completed with no local funds and will provide the future educational setting for all preschool through second grade students in the district.

After touring the new facility I congratulate the Board of Education on their efforts and the result. This is truly a place where students can thrive and learn and teachers can teach to their highest abilities and all

It's Really All About the Kids . . .

During the Open House on Sat., Matt and Maddie Hultz, children of Scott and Nicole Hultz of Mark, decided to sit down and try out the state-of-the-art computer lab at the PC Primary School. Their main mission was to try to discover who their teacher would be for the upcoming school year. This educational building is really all about the kids and the standard of education that will be maintained in the PC School District. The school is very "kid friendly" according to Mrs. LeRette, new principal of the facility.

can achieve the Excellence in Education that the PC Schools have stood for over such a long time.

As a former board of education member in another district, I know personally how difficult it is to achieve the results they have accomplished in PC. This is a facility all members of this community can be extremely proud of for many years to come.

The cake enjoyed by everyone at the Open House has photos of Hopkins High School, PC Hopkins Elementary School and the new PC Primary School. All sat on this site.

To Celebrate 150 Years of Worship

The Episcopal leader of the IL Area of the United Methodist Churches, Bishop Gregory Palmer will lead worship on Sunday, September 27 in the Hennepin UMC to celebrate 150 years of methodist worship in Hennepin. The worship service will be held at the usual time, 8:30 a.m. and everyone is cordially invited to take part in the service. The sesquicentennial celebration will be part of the church's annual Harvest Home festival, which will be held on Saturday, September 26.

The annual Harvest Home family-style chicken dinner will again be the highlight of the annual celebration, with servings at 4:30, 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. in the church social room. Carry-out meals will be available in the Education wing of the church. The menu will include fried chicken, mashed potatoes and gravy, green beans, cole slaw, applesauce, bread and butter and homemade pies. Tickets will soon be available from church members.

Watch the newspaper in upcoming weeks for more details about the 150th celebration and the Harvest Home Festivities scheduled in Hennepin in late September.

Putnam County Residents Pray for Steel Mill Jobs

Residents of Hennepin and Putnam County held a prayer service in front of the steel mill at Hennepin in support of the 300 people who had been laid off. They prayed for the return of the mill and the jobs for the people.

Statistics show that the ArcelorMittal plant in Hennepin has been one of the most profitable steel finishing plants in the United States. It is not easily understood then why this company wants to close this profitable business. ArcelorMittal has also refused to sell the building to another interested party so that jobs can be salvaged in Putnam County. Russ Kingston, president and CEO of North American Trading Co. in California was the party interested in purchasing the building. His intent was to produce a product called S-CLAD which is a lamination of more than one kind of steel. All effort to purchase the Hennepin plant have been pushed aside by the administration of ArcelorMittal. If Kingston was able to purchase the plant he could create about 600 jobs in Putnam County.

State Representative Frank Mautino (D-Spring Valley) stated "This plant has always produced a profit even at 50% capacity. We're trying to show ArcelorMittal you can't profit by destroying American jobs. They are doing this in other places and transferring our assets to other countries. Our steel caucus needs to make a decision and it needs to start right here."

Many Putnam County leaders; religious, political and school, explained how the closure had affected the residents with an unemployment rate of 14.1% to date. School Superintendent Jay McCracken quoted statistics which showed a substantial amount of funding would be lost from the plant closure. The hardest hurt by all of this are the families who were directly laid off from their jobs at the plant.

Pictured above are attendees at the prayer service at ArcelorMittal last week. Several dignitaries came and spoke at the service, including David York with the mike. It was estimated that over 100 were in attendance and they all hoped their prayers would be answered and that the steel mill would be able to remain in Hennepin.

Putnam County Primary School Ribbon Cutting Ceremony Held

by Darrell Alleman

The new 39,240 sq. ft Putnam County Primary School was dedicated at 11:00 a.m. July 25th. The dedication was held at the entrance of the school with a large crowd of young children and adults looking on. PC School Board President Judy Hopkins spoke and said, "The PC Primary School building continues the education tradition of excellence. The Buel Institute marker sitting at the entrance of the new school commemorates the land grant that eventually led to the building of the Hopkins Township High School in 1915, and eventually led to the building of the IU University and other State universities."

"In 1970 the PC Elementary Hopkins School was built here on this location, and kept the tradition of Education Excellence. Now we have this forward looking school that continues to meet the needs of our youngest students. It did take five years to build this school." Judy then thanked the former and present school Board of Education that worked so hard to make the school a reality. She thanked the Healey & Bender architect firm for the modern school building. She also thanked the Village of Granville for putting in the water and sewer lines that run all the way from Silver- spoon to the school building and were installed and paid for by the Village. Mrs. Hopkins thanked the teachers, and principal Krista LeRette for helping to get the new school ready for opening day, and that many of the teachers are ready for school to begin. They have worked hard for that to happen. She thanked the principals, staff, volunteers and custodians for the hours and day spent on their own time. She thanked Ed Schmitt and his technology staff who worked all summer to get the computers and all the special technology up and running. Also, the Hopkins Alumni for their numerous contributions to this building and other school buildings in the district. She gave a special thanks you to Douglas Smith, Maintenance Supervisor, who has watched the construction from the day it started to make sure everything was exactly right. She then thanked Superintendent Jay McCracken for jumping in with enthusiasm after arriving on the job in July of 2008. The building came in under budget and the building looks fantastic. Thanks to board member Jennifer Smoode for her work as a member of the building committee.

Superintendent McCracken then spoke saying, "What a great day and thanks to all who are here. We honor the school board of education for the exciting occasion. I am honored to welcome everyone here, with the honored guests, Senator Gary Dahl, Regional Superintendent Bangert and her assistant as well as the summer workers, maintenance staff, and volunteers. The storm has finally passed."

Superintendent McCracken then held up a clock that was in the Hopkins Elementary building that had stopped at the exact time that the tornado ripped through the building in 2004. It will hang in the new primary building. It will be a sign that the education for the young people never stops. McCracken said, "They never let up after the horrific event that occurred five years ago. They made sure our students are (the) most important asset and they still have a great education. This clock will be a sitting reminder in our beautiful new school that the future education of our PC students never stands still. We (will) always try to move all children forward, while providing all students the best opportunity for learning. It seems more than ironic that more than 90 years ago on this site, Mr. Dean Iman, the first principal of Hopkins High School, began the forward movement in education. The artwork that is on display as you tour the school is part of the forward movement by Mr. Iman who had such foresight of the education of our PC youth."

McCracken recognized the Alumni Association and the landscape committee for all their work. He then said, "Let this day not only be remembered for the opening of the new great school, but as the rebirth of that forward movement where we are constantly reminded to move all students forward and that PC students will always be provided with the finest education possible, and will always be placed first in all our decisions. Putnam County is a proud community that truly cares about their children's future. These students standing here are from all over the county, and now they will cut the ribbon for the opening of our school."

School board member Danielle Stoddard introduced the primary students who were holding the yellow ribbon and then counted to three, and all the children cut the ribbon together.

Smith / Harris Engagement Announced

Jason Dee Harris & Kayla Renee Smith

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas (Jill) Smith of Magnolia announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kayla Renee Smith, to Jason Dee Harris. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George (Marlyn) Siebert of Hennepin and Jay Harris of LaSalle.

The bride-elect is self-employed and currently working at Marquis Energy, Hennepin. The prospective bridegroom is employed by Marquis Energy, Hennepin.

The couple has planned a September 12th ceremony at the Magnolia United Methodist Church / New Hope Parish.

Preschool Screening

L.E.A.S.E. and the PC School District will offer a preschool screening on August 11 from 8:30 - 11:30 a.m. The screening will be held at the PC Primary School in Granville.

PC children who will be three on or before September 1st are eligible for the screening. It will cover small and large muscle development, speech, language, hearing, vision, cognition, and social skills. Parents, who have other developmental concerns about their child, can discuss those during the parent interview. We encourage all PC families, with age-eligible preschoolers, to take advantage of the screening.

Results from the screening can be used to help determine a child's eligibility for the free Early Childhood Program at the Swaney building. The Early Childhood Program is a state funded program paid for with a grant from the IL Board of Education. It offers developmentally appropriate experiences for young children to strengthen their skills for success later on in school. The program includes hands-on activities presented in a positive and encouraging environment. Each child brings his/her own experiences to the Early Childhood Program, which also helps to enhance the program.

Parents interested in making an appointment for this Early Childhood Screening are asked to call 815/228-1347 during the week of August 3-9 to schedule their appointment for the screening.

Attention PCHS Students

Any PCHS student interested in going out for cross country for the fall season should meet at the high school track at 3:30 p.m. on August 13th. Bring running clothes and shoes at that time.

Summer Food Pantry News

This summer is proving to be a very busy time for the Putnam County Food Pantry! Volunteers are working to keep up with the number of families being served. In the month of June alone, the pantry was a source of assistance for 64 different families (211 individuals). Wondering how you can help? Here are some suggestions:

- Buy an extra item at the grocery store and place it in the collection carts at PC stores, banks, and churches.

- Donate grocery bags by placing them in the food collection carts. We especially like large paper grocery or shopping bags, but could also use clean plastic bags.

- Designate monetary gifts to the PC Food Pantry in memory of someone. For those "hard-to-buy-for" people, give a gift to the food pantry in their name.

- Send monetary gifts to PC Food Pantry, PO Box 96, Granville IL 61326 or deposit your designated gift into the food pantry's account at Granville National Bank.

- Go to thehungersite.com every single day and click on "Click Here to Give---It's Free."

- You will provide a free cup of food to a hungry person in the U.S. or elsewhere. Easy!

- Buy diapers or laundry soap when they are on sale and donate. These are just a couple of items that clients continually ask about, which we seldom have.

- Write a monthly check to the food pantry as you pay other bills.

- Drop off donated groceries at the pantry site at Granville United Church of Christ from 8:30-10 a.m. on Saturday mornings. The pantry is located in the old basement on the south side of the church.

Thank you, thank you, thank you! We may not thank you personally, but know that anything you can do for the clients of the food pantry, in any capacity, is so appreciated.

Letter to the Editor

I was recently at a committee meeting for a local event. As the wife of a former ArcelorMittal employee, I was explaining about the informational picket being held outside the steel mill and passing out some literature. Shortly after that, a committee member, who is also an elected official, made some comment about "the poor guys making 80%." I tried to explain that the 80% was of base wages and did not include the weekly bonuses. My comments were ignored and the subject quickly moved to other things.

So I would like to try to explain this to this committee member and others in a different way. For starters, could you and your household budget take a 20% cut with no ill effects? Can you imagine having purchased a car with monthly payments and taking a 20% cut to your wages? Can you imagine having just signed papers and moved into your new home to find out a month later that you are going to have a 20% cut in wages? Imagine being a divorced parent of children and finding out that not one but two households are going to be affected by the 20% reduction in income. Imagine any number of situations and finding out that you are going to have to make your monthly bills on 20% less than you had been previously. (After six months, even the 80% of the hourly rate is gone.)

People of this county may not realize that because of this steel mill closing, there is not only the reduction in personal income, but also loss of property tax revenue to this county. Who do you think is going to have to make up for the loss of those dollars in county budgets? The correct answer would be the property owners with a possible increase in property taxes. The correct answer would also be county and township budgets, meaning there would be a reduction of services available or projects to be done. This loss of revenue affects every single county resident in one way or another.

So, if you think a 20% loss of income is nothing, let's see how you would do. If you think that this doesn't cause strain to individuals and households, let's see how you would do. And if this hasn't happened to you, perhaps you should take the time to talk to someone that's been there before making comments about "the poor guys making 80%."

If you want some real information on what this closing means and what living on 80% of your former income is, stop out at the plant entrance at Rt. 71 & I-180. Talk to the people out there. They would be happy to talk to you and explain it.

The 2009 M-P Fair's A "Sporting-A-Fair" lived up to its credo of "a tradition of excellence in every way."

Nineteen food vendors outdid themselves again and there were free shows and games for adults and children. It was by far the best, nicest, cleanest fair there is. The kick-off dinner on Wednesday in the Activity Building had a respectable turnout even though it had rained all day. Everyone enjoyed the meal with the sweet corn being especially good.

Wednesday evening Samantha Dunphy of Lacon was crowned the new 2009 Miss M-P Fair Queen. She is the daughter of Joe and Brandi Dunphy. 1st runner up was Lauren Passini of Standard, the daughter of Mary Francis and David Passini. Grace Cook, 14 year old daughter of Claude and Shelby Cook of Henry was crowned Junior Miss and six year old Nadia Kessler was crowned Princess. She is the daughter of Nicolas and Donna Kessler of Henry. 2008 M-P Fair Queen Elaine Noll crowned the new queen.

Thursday morning brought out the harness racing before the regular races with a total of 14 races held.

The Senior Citizen's program was held in the Hunt Building and was a huge success. The MPS Show Choir, under the direction of Bob Ekert, entertained the seniors and almost everyone got a door prize. Judge Scott Shore emceed the event. He estimated there were over 240 attendees. The Choir ended the morning's entertainment with patriotic music. The crowd was reminded of the right to assembly by Bob Ekert.

The draft horse hitch classes were held Thursday evening. The horses were beautiful as they put on their best in front of the crowd. On Friday morning there was water standing on the track and it was raining hard. Around 3:30 to 4 p.m. the sun showed up but it was too late for the show. Friday evening's America's Pull - PPL Championship had to be called off. It was a big disappointment for all the drivers of the tractors and trucks that were sitting in the infield with their semi-trailers, campers and families but they were good sports and very understanding.

On Saturday the sun popped out and M-P Fair Director Ed Hartwig and his hard-working gang worked the track up and hauled the mud off; packed the track and the pull started on time with the Henry Legion Honor Guard on the track and all the pullers and workers lined up. Jerry Read's son-in-law sang and his grandson sang America. All through the evening and night black smoke poured out of the tractors and trucks exhausts as they screamed down the tracks one after another.

On Sunday the fair exhibitors breakfast was held in the Activity Building. Norbert Louis mixed the batter for the pancakes while his son, John, grilled them and their daughter, Fair President Jovonna Kocker, was everywhere she was needed! I know they were missing their wife and mother, Marilyn, who for years worked in the food line. Marilyn was missed by everyone.

Early Sunday morning I took a walk with my camera and walked into the now empty grandstand that had been vibrating with the PPL Championship Pull just a few hours before. It was now quiet in the stand. I looked across the track to the north bleachers, and was shocked to see the glistening litter in the sunshine. Row after row of litter. I turned around and looked back up into the stand seats and there stood all the cups, boxes, etc. on all those rows of seat as well. I had the thought that if everyone would have taken their own trash down to the large garbage cans when they left their seats, it would really be nice and helpful for the fair workers who would have to pick up all the trash, sweep and clean the place on Sunday morning to be ready for the lawn mower races in the afternoon and the Demolition Derby that evening.

I enjoy seeing the farm and city boys bring their Derby cars to the demo derby and ram and beat each others cars by hitting them as hard as they can. I don't believe any other fair has the enthusiasm and the great crowds that the M-P Fair has year after year.

Chain saw artist Pat Doyle did some great carving out of the large cedar logs that Stunke Tree Service provided. The fair also had exotic animals as well as three young fawns and children could have their pictures taken with them. It was fun to listen to Lamar the Hat Man, the Henry Torpedo Boys, Harmony Circle and Mitch Williams on the free stage during the fair. I enjoyed the large amount of antique tractors that were displayed.

The $-Equipment Company displayed a 32 foot grain table. I thought how much farming has changed in my lifetime when my Dad used a binder and threshing machine and my first combine was the popular AC five foot combine.

Read Brothers had a large display of Case-International machinery. Rupiper had some nice looking John Deere lawn mowers and Andy Glenn was displaying his Kennilworth semi-tractors. It was nice to visit with Charley Lundberg who had attended the last 68 fairs and who also came everyday to the fair.

Joe Monier was in a golf cart and had his picture taken with the winning horse, Hood River, and the Monier family as the R.H. Monier Memorial Blanket was placed on the horse.

Many workers were very busy during the course of the fair. There was Erika McCall, Susie Allen and her office staff, Carol Kocker Monier and her team, Director Spud Walin and his gang just to name a few.

Many familiar faces were present such as Gary Naumann, Lynette Mudge Weidner, Dawn Tonozzi Conerton, the Red Hat Ladies and Karen Bailey. There were so many activities going on every day and so many of these people were involved.

Mayor Kevin Coleman of Hennepin took first place in the lawn mower races. Other mayors participating included towns and villages of Henry, Granville, Varna, Toluca and Hopewell.

M-P Fair Director Jovonna Kocker thanks everyone for their participation and hoped they all returned next year!

Children from households that meet Federal guidelines are eligible for free or reduced price meal services. With the 2005-06 school year, each household should complete one application for all children that attend the same school district.

All meals served must meet the US Dept. of Ag. meal requirements. However, if a child has been determined by a doctor to have a disability and the disability would prevent the child from eating the regular school meal, this school will make substitutions prescribed by the doctor. If a substitution is needed, there will be no extra charge for the meal. If you believe your child needs substitutions because of a disability, please get in touch with us for further information.

Application forms are being sent to all homes with a letter to parents or guardians. To apply for free or reduced price meal services households must complete the application as soon as possible, sign it and return it to the school. Additional copies of the application form are available at the principal's office in the school. Households should answer all applicable questions on the form. An application which does not contain all the required information cannot be processed and approved by the school. Women, Infants, and Children (WIC) participants may be eligible for free/reduced-price meals and are encouraged to complete an application for meal benefits. The required information is as follows:

S N A P / T A N F HOUSEHOLDS: If the school provided you a letter that stated your child(ren) is eligible for free meals via the direct certification process, you do not have to complete this application to receive free meal benefits. Households that currently receive Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program (SNAP) or Temporary Assistance for Needy Families (TANF) for their child(ren) only have to list the child(ren)'s name and SNAP or TANF case number and sign the application. Applications listing LINK card numbers cannot be used for free or reduced-price meals.

scale, children are eligible for either free or reduced price meal services. Households must provide the following information: (1) the names of all household members; (2) the Social Security number of the adult household member signing the application, or indicate if the adult does not have a Social Security number; (3) the amount of income each household member received last month and where it comes from (wages, child support, etc); and (4) the signature of an adult household member.

The information on the application may be checked by school or other officials at any time during the school year.

Households may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. Households that are not eligible now but have a decrease in household income, an increase in household size or have a household member that becomes unemployed, should fill out an application at that time.

In certain cases foster children are eligible for free or reduced price meal services regardless of the household income. Households that have foster children living with them and wish to apply free or reduced price for meal services for them should complete the application. Homeless, migrant, and runaway youth are categorically eligible for free meals; please contact the school homeless liaison or migrant coordinator.

Households that do not agree with the ruling of the official may wish to discuss it with the school. Households also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing the following official:

Superintendent Jay McCracken; 400 E. Silverspoon; Granville, IL 61326; (815) 339-2800.

In accordance with Federal law and US Dept. of Ag. policy, this institution is prohibited from discriminating on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, age, or disability. To file a complaint of discrimination, write USDA Director, Office of Civil Rights, Room 326-W, Whitten Building, 1400 Independence Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20250-9410 or call 800/795-3272 or 202/720-6382 (TTY). The PC Historical Society is delighted to have access to a very special exhibit in the display are at Pulsifer House with the selection of buttons from the late Georgia Clausen's collection. Ms. Clausen was a life-long button collector and had a huge collection of all kinds, types, and ages of buttons. There are glass, bone, shell, rubber, wooden, covered, metal, etc. that were selected from the many that are available. The Button Alphabet Card is especially clever. Cargill Donates to Food Shelves

Cargill announced it is providing grants totaling nearly $20,000 for two area food banks. The company matched donations made by customers, community members and employees during a campaign to support local food-relief organizations.

In an effort to support local food shelves, Cargill announced in February that it would double match donations made by customers, community members and employees between February 20 and March 20 to Northern Illinois Food Bank in St. Charles and River Bend Food Bank in Moline. Each organization partners with food pantries in their respective surrounding counties.

Cargill AgHorizons's Northern Illinois River farm service group - which includes grain terminals in Hennepin, Lacon, Morris, Ottawa, Seneca and Spring Valley - collected funds from customers, employees and community members, matched the funds, and then provided an additional match from Cargill's corporate office. Each dollar donated by the community became a $3 gift to the local food bank. River Bend Food Bank received more than $8,000 total, while Northern Illinois River Food Bank received more than $21,000 in funds from the community and Cargill during the campaign.

"We recognize that our continued success depends on the growth and health of our communities and partners," said Steve Heiden, regional manager for Cargill AgHorizons' Northern Illinois River farm service group. "Our thanks to everyone who contributed to this community challenge project because we really make a difference when we work together."

Hear His Word

"LIMITATIONS"
"A man's got to know his limitations," said Harry Callahan, a character made famous by Clint Eastwood. An individual has to know their limitations. We all have limitations, and cannot do everything. In other words, we are not super human beings. Not every problem is solvable. Not all things turn out well. The question is: What do we do when we come up to our limitations?
Popular speaker and minister Joel Osteen tells a great story about a fellow who is shipwrecked on a deserted volcanic island. He thought all was lost, but he did what he could to save himself. He foraged and fished for food, used large boulders to make a "Help Me!" sign on the beach, and built a hut out of palm branches all to no avail. No hope. He sat for hours on the beach, month after month, looking in vain to the distant horizon.
One morning, he turned to see his little straw hut go up in flames. "What next?" he sighed. And in that next instant he saw a Navy cutter cruising toward the sandy beach. All was not lost! "How did you know I was here?" he asked his rescuers. "We saw the smoke from the fire you had built" they replied.
Joel Osteen concludes the story: "Just when you think that hope has run its course, God will take your burning hut and turn it into an opportunity for a miracle."
Dr. William Lenters, a chaplain, tells the story about his oldest son, Mark. In junior high school Mark had to face the fact he was not a good enough basketball player to make the junior high school team. As you can imagine, it was a devastating blow to Mark. He loved the game, but, the coach said that he would not make the cut. As a parent, Dr. Lenters will never forget the hurt on his son's face.
Mark accepted the coach's decision to cut him, accepted what he could not change. But then Mark went out to change what he could: he turned his attention to tennis and worked his way up to being the number one singles player on the high school team and eventually his college team. Acknowledgment of his limitations gave birth to surprising success. And dare we call it a miracle!
We all have to recognize our limitations. In recognizing our limitations, we may find another door of opportunity opening to/for us!
Let me conclude with Reinhold Neibuhr's prayer: "Grant me, O God, the serenity to accept the things I cannot change; the courage to change the things I can change; and the wisdom to know the difference. Amen."

Bureau County Fair- -KIDBUCK$ Family Game Show Returns

Probably the kid's favorite thing at the 154th Bureau County Fair, Princeton, this year is the return of Kidbuck$ Game Show, where the kids are the stars of the show. The attraction is presented three times daily by Citizens First National Bank, Bureau/ Putnam County Crime stoppers and Variety Attractions.

Kidbuck$ is an ever changing game show, where randomly selected members of the audience (between the ages of 3 and 15 years of age) compete. Nine contestants participate in wild and crazy games on stage. Three winners move into the winners circle, and in the final round, contestants spin the wheel to win. The grand champion enters the money chamber, where they have 30 seconds to grab as many Kidbuck$ as they can. The winner gets to redeem them for great prizes.

The Kidbuck$ Game Show is another part of the thousands of dollars worth of free entertainment at the Fair in Princeton. For more information, visit the fair's web site at www.BureauCountyFair.com.

Excerpts From A New Book by Greg Stanmar

Alcee Hastings

It takes a lot to put your job in jeopardy, especially if you are connected with government.

A case in point is Alcee Hastings, a Democrat from Florida who was kicked off the federal bench in 1989 only to be elected to that political club that three years before had impeached him.

The U.S. Senate, when it convicted him after the House's impeachment, had the option of forbidding him from ever seeking federal office. It declined to do so, clearing the way for his next job with government as a congressman.

Born in 1936, the handsome Florida politician began his education at prestigious Crooms Academy, a black public high school in mostly white Seminole County in central Florida. From Sanford, FL, he went on to Howard University Law, though he eventually received his actual law degree from the Florida Agricultural & Mechanical University in Tallahassee.

Then he started practicing law until he received his first government job as judge in Broward County, FL, something he held on to for two years until his 1979 appointment by President Jimmy Carter to the U.S. court for the southern district of Florida, the first ever black federal judge in Florida. He held onto that job for ten years until his past caught up with him.

Hastings has the distinction of being one of only a half-dozen judges in the history of this country to be convicted for slimy acts. Specifically, the Senate convicted him of taking a $150,000 bribe eight years earlier to convince himself that a convict deserved a light sentence. Hastings attempted to fib his way out of trouble, adding perjury to the charges that the senate deliberated.

With a straight face, he sought and won a congressional job, the first black Floridian to do so since reconstruction.

He even formed an exploratory committee to see what chance he had of joining that all-white U.S. Senate club in 2003 but that idea never caught on with voters. Instead it was another charismatic black, Barack Obama of Illinois, who brought color to Senate chambers.

Recovery Act Allocates Millions for Direct Operating Loans to Farmers and Ranchers

Charles Chadwell, Acting State Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service Agency in Illinois announced today that FSA has obligated all of the $173 million provided in the Recovery Act for its Direct Operating Farm Loan Program, which gave 2,636 farmers - almost 50% who were beginning farmers and 10% socially disadvantaged producers - direct loans from the agency. There were 54 loans totaling $3,563,790 in 25 counties in Illinois.

"These loans were used to purchase items such as farm equipment, feed, seed, fuel and other operating expenses and will stimulate rural economies by providing American farmers funds to operate," said Chadwell.

Applications were considered on a first come, first served basis with special emphasis placed on beginning and socially disadvantaged applicants. The maximum loan amount was $300,000.

In keeping with the president's goal for the Recovery Act, this loan funding was intended for proper investment into the agricultural sector, to benefit both family farmers and rural economies. The Recovery Act was designed to preserve or create millions of jobs throughout the country and these loans help ensure that recipients remain financially viable and local agribusinesses benefit from direct purchases.

Here is a hypothetical example of purchases made with a $100,000 direct operating loan: • Used Farm Tractor: $45,000 • Livestock: $18,000 • Seed: $15,000 • Fertilizer: $10,000 • Fuel: $12,000

The effect of this loan reaches the local implement dealership, sale barn, the grain seed distributor, the fertilizer distributor and a local fuel dealership.

For specific information on direct operating loans and other FSA farm loan programs, please visit your local USDA Service Center or FSA county office. You can also obtain information from the FSA website at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

Acreage Reporting Date

Because of extreme weather conditions many producers have not filed a 2009 acreage report. Producers may also need to request prevented planting or reported failed acreage. Where the crop year 2009 crop acreage deadlines have not passed for 2009, the final crop reporting dates are extended to August 14 with the exception of the Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP).

Producers enrolled in NAP are required to file an acreage report by the extended acreage reporting date but no later than 15 calendar days before the onset of harvest if that is earlier than the extended acreage reporting date.

Acreage reports filed after August 14th will require a late filed fee.

Additional information on acreage reporting is available at county FSA offices or online at www.fsa.usda.gov.

Annual Conservation Camp Excites Kids about Conservation

Bake Sale in DePue

The high temperatures did not stop the fun at the 2009 Conservation Camp held at Lake Thunderbird, Putnam on June 23. The camp was sponsored by the Marshall-Putnam Soil and Water Conservation District along with the University of Illinois Extension Marshall-Putnam Unit.

80 youth from Marshall and Putnam counties and the surrounding area enjoyed the day by April Richards, Educator, from the Field Museum in Chicago. Richards was assisted by Jan Powelson with the Stark County Soil & Water Conservation District. The Soil Mobile is a former delivery truck painted to look like a soil profile from the top of the ground down. Ms. Richards spoke about the importance of soil, soil properties, how soil is formed and the organisms that make their homes

Dirt Desserts, Terrariums and Flower Pot Art.

The Stream Walk was the only session that did not mind the heat because they were wading through the water to get up close personal with the local stream inhabitants. Yona Lunkin served as their Guide and Dennis Sparr as their Naturalist. The youth observed stream life and the surrounding aquatic plants.

Frank Hyla the host of "Time on the Water" which airs locally on Comcast Chicago Sports Net taught the fishing class. He spoke about fishing techniques, equipment and fish species. The students then had time to enjoy catching fish in the lake. Mark Girone and Bethany Harrison assisted Frank. Frank's web site is <http://www.timeonthewater.com/>.

Terry Madsen, Unit Educator, Youth Development from U of I Extension led a GPS scavenger hunt that took the class on a hike around the Club House area to find hidden treasures using hand held Global Positioning units. The treasures were based on the Illinois State Symbols. Betty Ann Harrison helped lead the classes.

Linda Hannah Master Gardener from University of Illinois Extension along with Chantele Craig instructed the students on how to create a closed terrarium system with potting soil and small plants. The campers had fun creating their own mini greenhouses to take home and watch grow.

Students learned about the make up of soil through food, by making dirt desserts. Rachel Grumbine, Matt Bade and Andy Schoepke instructed the students on soil composition as they created an edible dessert.

The Flower Pot Art session enabled the students to create a beautiful flower pot using the decoupage technique. The session was led by Laura Wilson with the help of Courtney Hannah and Jillian Allen.

Marshall-Putnam Extension staff Anita Wilkinson and Katie Bogner along with Marshall-Putnam Soil and Water staff Carrie Hattan and Joyce Scholl were on hand to assist with the event. Conservation Camp is just one of the many youth programs that Marshall-Putnam Extension and Marshall-Putnam Soil and Water offer to the community. For more information about future programs contact the Extension Office at 309-364-2356 and Soil and Water at 309-364-3913.

The DePue Junior High School Cheerleaders will be holding a fundraiser July 31, August 1 & 2 during the American Power Boat Association (APBA) races at Lake DePue. The Cheerleaders will be having a bake sale on the grounds of the Lakeview Video and Ice Cream Parlor across from the Boat Races from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. each day. The Spartan Cheerleaders will be selling bake goods, new school lanyards, and ponytail holders. Their goal is to raise funds to have sweat suits and pompoms for the upcoming school year. Coach Dixie Schroeder said, "Please come out and support the girls and their efforts. The girls are excited to get sweat suits for the first time. We have been working hard this month learning new cheers and will be demonstrating them at the sale." For more information contact Schroeder at DePue Junior High School, 815-447-2121.

learning about conservation. The theme of this year's camp was "Dig It," therefore most sessions incorporated soil information into the presentations. The participants were able to take part in one or two sessions of their choice plus every camper had the opportunity to attend the Soil Mobile station. The Soil Mobile session was given in the soil. Richards brought many dioramas which were created by the Field Museum staff during their extensive research of soil and its role in our lives. This was a unique opportunity for all to see.
